Penn Gate Farm Shows Grand At Holstein Fall Championship

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Robert Gitt and his son-in-law and daughter, Steve and Christine Wood, owners of Penn Gate Farm in Littlestown, showed their 5-year-old Penn Gate Chief Mark Alice to win the open division grand champion honors at the Pennsylvania Holstein Association's Fall Championship show Tuesday at the state Farm Show Complex.

The farm family was also named premier breeder of the show. On top of that, while the rest of the results of the All-American Dairy Show's Eastern National Holstein Show and the other five national shows are to be published next week, as late as Thursday afternoon, Alice was named best bred and owned Holstein.

The Walkway Chief Mark daughter was also named the best bred and owned animal of the Pennsylvania Fall Champsionship.

Judge for the show was Dennis Patrick, of Woodbine, Md.

The Pa. Holstein Association annually holds its fall championship show at Harrisburg in conjunction with the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show event, which features six national shows.

This year, for the first time, the state Holstein show featured "intermediate" champions.

The normal structure of a dairy cattle show divides mature or senior-aged animals (cows) from immature or junior-aged animals (heifers).

For the first time, the Pennsylvania Holstein Association structured a championship show to feature the selection of a younger mature animal as an intermediate-aged champion.

Some shows in surrounding states have already altered some of their show structure this way, and the Pa. Holstein Association Show Committee recommended the change for this show.

The intermediate champions are selected from 2- and 3-year-old Holstein cows.

Arguments for the additional champion catagory include that it offers most of the class winners of the younger milk-bearing cows to be milked out and receive relief prior to the end of a show with the knowledge that they don't have a chance at senior champion; and that it allows recognition of outstanding animals that otherwise don't get highlighted.

This can be especially true in large shows with a great deal of depth. Whether or not it continues depends on the response of Holstein association members and show exhibitors.

In the open division, the reserve grand and reserve senior champion animal was the second place 5-year-old cow, New Direction Sexy Tabatha, owned and bred by Tom McCauley, of New Direction Holsteins in Elizabethtown.

The intermediate champion of the open division was also the winner of the 1996 Pennsylvania Holstein Futurity, and was the grand champion of the youth division

Lancaster Conservation District to Host State

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — The Lancaster County Conservation District will host the 49th annual conference of the State Conservation Commission and the PA Association of Conservation Districts (PACD) on October 6-9, the Willow Valley Conference Center, Lancaster.

The theme of this year's conference is "Preserving Farms by Preserving Farm Family Profit." Ron Bailey, director of the Lancaster County Planning Commission, will be the keynote speaker. Various tours will highlight how local farm families have increased income through high value crops and side-line businesses. Conservation activity in the Pequea Mill Creek watershed and on the Donegal Creek will also be spotlighted.

Delegates from the 66 county conservation districts are invited to meet annually with the State Conservation Commission and the PACD to give direction to the association's goals for the coming year and to recognize outstanding conservation achievements. Among items of business for the State Conservation Commission will be the finalization of the Nutrient Management Act regulations.

Prior to the State Conservation Commission, the Secretaries of the Departments of Agriculture, Environmental Protection, and Conservation and Natural Resources will meet with delegates to explain programs and answer questions. Other conference highlights will be the Host Night entertainment featuring the Red Rose Chorus on Monday and the PACD Conservation Awards Banquet on Tuesday evening.

The Lancaster County District last hosted the conference in 1985. For additional information, please call the Lancaster County Conservation District at 299-5361.

This aged Jersey cow, Sparklers Unique Jeanna, was named supreme champion of the 1996 Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show on Thursday afternoon. From the left, state Agriculture Secretary Charles Broslus and state Dairy Princess Angela Werley present the banner to Maryland owners Douglas King and Michael Heath, while Billy Heath holds her halter. The selection was made by three judges — Donald Seipt of Pennsylvania, Norman Hill of Maryland, and PDA's Peter Witmer. See more coverage of the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show in next week's issue.

York Junior Livestock Sale Takes The Cake

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

YORK (York Co.) — For the York County 4-H Livestock Judging and Meats Judging Teams, fund-raising has been a piece of cake.

In what has become a tradition over the past several years, the annual Junior Livestock Sale at the York Fair again opened this year with the offering of a cake. The noted livestock sale cake is annually baked and artfully decorated by extension assistant Lois Rankin.

Each year, the cake sale generates a bit more attention and a few more buyers, who invariably decide they really do not need a cake and donate it back. An even dozen buyers shared this year's cake buying frenzy, beginning with Delwood Kitchens, who paid $425, and ending with Rentzel's

Delmarva Broiler

SEPTEMBER 25, 1996

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was sluggish. Seller offerings were noted as ample and generally slow to clear. Live supplies remained mostly moderate; weights were mixed in a full range of light to heavy. Processing schedules were moderate to heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were lower at 57 to 71 cents. Trade sentiment was weak and unsettled. In the parts complex, all items were at least adequate or available; however, buying interest was limited.

National Grain Market

ST. JOSEPH, MO
SEPTEMBER 25, 1996

Grain and soybean bids climbed higher as forecasts predict moisture over the next several days in Midwest and central Plains areas.

Wheat 1 to 2 cents higher. Corn 1 to 9 cents higher. Sorghum 3 to 8 cents higher. Soybeans 4 to 10 cents higher. Rainy weather and cooler temperatures moved into the Midwest and central Plains as forecasts call for additional moisture thoughout the week. Traders have become concerned due to the problems this could cause in wheat planting as well as corn and bean harvest. Excellent export sales of soybeans were reported overnight, giving beans a big boost. U.S. Export Sales: Commodity Tonnage Del date Taiwan Soybeans 162,000 Dec/Mar Totals: Soybeans 162,000 tonnes. OK City Feeder Cattle

Kond are reevaluating their positions. Calf demand rather light with many farmers drilling wheat or contemplating wet fields. Quality average to many plain. Weigh-ups average to full. Feeder cattle in thin to medium flesh; calves in medium to fleshy conditions. Slaughter cows 1.00 lower. Slaughter bulls 2.00 lower. Packer demand light to moderate. Country cow buyers active with very good demand for young bred cows or young thin cows. This week marked the first time in 1996 that replacement cow buyers set packer buyers in back seat for cows up to 7 years old. Abundant winter grass stocks is the main driving force for accumulating country cows. However, cow men also encouraged by large cow slaughter since January of this year. Also Mexico has recovered from drought and cow men hopeful of deals being struck south of border for replacements to replenish Mexican herds. Cows and bulls total 795 head. Packers taking some 40 percent of supply, about one half of the past years norm. Receipts this week 14,200; last week 9,498; last year 9,571. Supply consisted of 62 percent yearlings and calves over 600 lbs; 32 percent calves under 600 lbs; 6 percent cows and bulls. Prices follow with weighted average weight and price in parenthesis. The OLD FARMER'S THIS WEEK WITH ALMANAC

SEPT. 30-OCT. 6, 1996

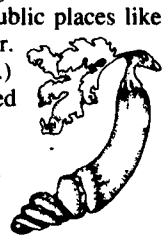
BEYOND GARDEN GUILT

The Old Farmer's Almanac Book of Garden Wisdom (published by Random House and available in book stores, or call 1-800-426-9922) offers these tips for facing up to the final harvest. One, host a harvest dinner full of zucchini and tomatoes. Two, give away what vegetables you can to friends and neighbors. Deliver! Three, distribute boxes of surplus to public places like the library, school, and recycling center. (Stuffing mailboxes is a federal offense.) Four, feed the compost pile and thus feed the soil as well as the birds and beasts.



Prosperity is the surest breeder of insolence I know. – Mark Twain

TIP OF THE WEEK

☞ For the best nutrient content, don't harvest just before a storm.

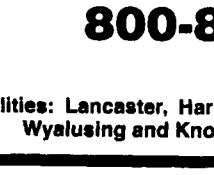
ZUCCHINI BREAD

2 tablespoons dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water
2-1/2 cups white flour
1 cup graham flour
1 cup grated zucchini
3/4 cup plain yogurt
3/4 cup cottage cheese
3 tablespoons minced chives
1 teaspoon salt

Proof yeast in warm water for 10 minutes or until bubbly. Stir in flours and zucchini. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Knead dough on a floured surface about 10 minutes, adding more flour if necessary. Let dough rise in a covered, buttered bowl about 1 hour or until doubled. Cut dough in half and form into 2 eight-inch loaves. Let rise in loaf pans until doubled, about 45 minutes. Brush tops with water and bake in preheated 375° F oven. After 3 minutes, brush tops again with water. Bake 45 to 50 minutes. Cool for 10 minutes, then turn out of pans.



Makes 2 loaves.

OPINION

Good And Bad Side Of Farming

On last week's NBC TV "Dateline" show about Salmonella enteriditis (SE) in eggs, the producers used such phrases as: "You are at risk when you sit down to eat;" "common eggs into a hazardous food product;" "one-half million people getting sick;" "(SE) hides inside grade A eggs" and "everything looks the same."

One of the statements that has the poultry industry up-in-arms was that one in 40 people is exposed to SE in eggs. These figures are believed to be largely inflated. Actually, if handled and cooked properly, eggs are perfectly safe, and getting sick from eating eggs is rare when you consider how many eggs are produced in this country.

While the industry acknowledges that SE is a problem, more realistic figures place SE in about two eggs in 10,000 from contaminated farms, which is far less of a risk than many opponents of agriculture would like you to believe.

The major disappointment in this anti-agriculture publicity event is that the producers of the show had the facts about the successful Pennsylvania Egg Quality Assurance Program (PEQAP), but failed to include the good side of the situation. We can only hope that in the future, the good side of farming will get as much attention as the bad.

Now Is The Time

By John Schwartz

Lancaster County Agricultural Agent

To Beware Of Silo Gas

Silo filling is in full swing and with it comes the hidden dangers of silo gas.

According to Leon Ressler, extension agricultural agent, silo gas is formed by the natural fermentation of chopped forages in the silo. Several gases are formed and the amount of different gases is determined by the type of silo the forage is stored.

In a conventional or open top silo, nitrogen dioxide is the major gas formed. This gas is characterized by a strong bleach-like odor and low-lying yellow, red, or dark brown fumes.

The gas reaches a peak about three days after filling and quickly begins to decrease shortly thereafter, especially if the silo is ventilated. After two weeks it is unlikely that any more gas will be formed but some could still be present if it was trapped and unable to escape the silo.

Nitrogen dioxide is dangerous because it causes severe irritation to the nose and throat and could cause inflammation of the lungs. It is especially dangerous because low-level exposure is often accompanied by only slight irritation or pain.

Although death may occur immediately, a farmer could breath the gas without any immediate serious symptoms and then die in his or her sleep hours later from fluid collecting in the lungs. Many victims have relapses one to two weeks after the initial exposure with symptoms similar to pneumonia.

If you are exposed to the gas, it is critical that you seek medical attention.

To Enter Silos Very Carefully

Ideally everyone should avoid the silo during the critical period when gases are forming. Since this is not always possible, it is best to use a self-contained breathing apparatus when entering during the danger period.

This is the only breathing device that is certain to protect you from all silo gases, according to Leon Ressler, extension agricultural agent.

Dust masks or chemical cartridge respirators do not provide sufficient protection and are not intended to be used where gases are extremely toxic or where the air has been replaced by gases such as carbon dioxide.

If you do not have access to a self-contained breathing device, it is possible to enter the silo safely if the following precautions are followed.

First, ventilate the silo and adjacent areas by running the blower 15 to 20 minutes before entering. All doors should be open down to the level of the settled silage and the windows in the feed room should be open. Leave the blower running the entire time you are inside the silo.

Second, never enter the silo unless another adult is present who can go for help if needed. This person should maintain visual contact with you.

Third, although it will not protect you from silo gases, wear a dust mask or some other respirator to protect your lungs from the high concentrations of dust and mold spores which are found in silos.

To Dry Fruits And Vegetables

Dr. Timothy Elkner, extension horticultural agent, suggests you may want to consider drying fruits and vegetables for use during winter months.

Dehydrators may be purchased at many department stores or through garden supply catalogs. They come with complete instructions for drying fruits and vegetables.

Prepared fruit or vegetables are spaced by not touching each other on the dehydrator trays and the unit is turned on. Produce is done when leathery and flat, usually in four hours or overnight.

Store dried produce in tightly lidded jars or put in bags in the freezer. Vegetables suitable for drying include tomatoes, peppers, carrots, onions, and zucchini. Fruits include apples, strawberries, and watermelon. Dried foods are "refreshed" by soaking or cooking or both in water until the desired volume is restored.

Refreshed, dried vegetables are best used as ingredients for soups, casseroles, sauces, stuffings, and stews. Dried fruit is excellent for eating as a snack. Children will usually eat this healthy alternative to conventional snack foods.

WAITING IS NOT DOING NOTHING

September 29, 1996

Background Scripture:
Habakkuk
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 31:1-10

Are you a pacer? That is, are you one of those who paces back and forth while having to wait for anything?

A friend once told me that long ago he learned that his pacing back and forth drove some people up the wall. So he decided to change — and learned to pace inside instead! That way he looks like he's waiting patiently, even if he's not.

Actually, I think that there are lots of people like that: cool on the outside, but hot within. These people often develop physical symptoms to go along with the inner pacing — heart disease, high blood pressure, psychoses, ulcers, to name a few.

We are a society that hates to wait and I confess it is not one of my best subjects. I don't like to wait in suspense, but one thing I have discovered is that it is one of the most important lessons we must learn. There are things we cannot control, cannot hurry.

A LIFE OF SURPRISES

I don't like surprises — unpleasant ones, at least — but life is so full of them. Sooner or later in order to survive we have to learn to trust something or someone. A number of years ago I counseled weekly with a colleauge who was dying of cancer. He and I tried to search for the meaning of what was happening to him. But one day he said to me, "You know, I used to want answers to everything, but I have suddenly realized that, if you really place your trust in God, you don't need all the answers. And that's good, because one never gets them all."

It is natural that we should want answers to our questions — that's the way God has made us. The prophet Habakkuk threw some pretty tough questions at the Lord. "O Lord, how long shall I cry for help, and thou wilt not hear? Or cry to thee 'Violence!' and thou wilt not save? Why dost thou make me see wrongs and look upon trouble?" (Hab. 1:2,3) The language is rather archaic but the questions are quite contemporary.

And then, in a different vein, the prophet decides to wait for God's response. "I will take my stand to watch, and station myself on the tower, and look forth to see what he will say to me..." (2:1). The prophet learned what so many of us learn: ask the questions and then be prepared to wait for the answers.

WAIT AND WELCOME

The reason we don't like to wait it that we assume that waiting is doing nothing. But waiting need not be passive. Andre Gide counsels: "...let your waiting be not even a longing, but simply a welcoming." Longing makes waiting intolerable, but welcoming waiting with faith can produce great satisfaction. Gide says, "Welcome everything that comes to you, but do not long for anything else. Long only for what you have. Understand that at every moment of the day God in His entirety may be yours."

Do you remember that last week we said that when God calls us to some task, even though we are not equal to it he supplies what we need? So it is when he calls us to wait — we are not equal to the task of waiting, but, if we welcome him into our waiting he will give us the resources with which to see it through.

So, the answer which God gives to Habakkuk is the same answer he gives to us: "For still the vision awaits its time; it hastens to the end of it — it will not lie. If it seem slow — wait for it; it will surely come" (2:3).

"The righteous shall live by his faith" because that's all that any of us have.

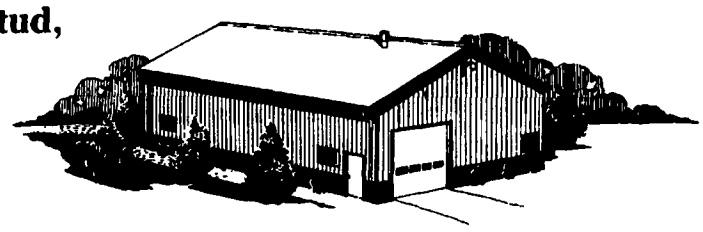
The Building you want.
The Lease you need.

Whether your new farm or commercial building is of pole, timber column, stud, steel or block construction; choose Telmark lease financing.



Telmark has been leasing equipment for over 30 years. Did you know that we've been leasing new buildings for that long too? Consider the features:

- Tax deductibility and accelerated write-offs: Lease payments are income tax deductible over the term of the lease compared to 20-year depreciation of farm buildings and 39-year depreciation of commercial buildings. Could reduce tax liability this year.
- Low upfront costs: Beginning costs may be as little as one monthly lease payment.
- Flexible lease term: Building lease terms start aggressively at five years but may be as long as ten, twelve, or fifteen years.
- Customized payment schedules: Lease payment schedules match your cash flow. Payment options include monthly, quarterly, annually, as well as, skip or specially designed seasonal payments.

How do you start leasing a building from Telmark? Talk with a qualified builder to determine your needs and building cost. And call your Telmark representative:

Leaner Sows With Larger Litters Need Improved Nutrition

RAPID CITY, S.D. — Because today's sows are leaner and produce larger litters than they did a decade ago, dietary adjustments may be necessary for them to produce enough milk for their piglets, according to Iowa State Univerity researchers.

"All the data we have is based on sows that are different from today's sows," said Tom Sauber, a research assistant at ISU. "Today's sows are leaner and produce larger litters."

Sauber and ISU swine nutritionist Tim Stahly compared the nutritional needs of two types of sows — high lean growth sows and low lean growth sows.

The researchers found that when low levels of the amino acid lysine were provided in the diet, it limited the production of milk. As dietary lysine levels increased, milk production also increased, but the amount of increase was less apparent in the lean sows.

"The genetically lean sows don't have that extra layer of backfat to draw energy from, so the amount of energy provided by the daily feed allowance is particularly critical for these sows," Stahley said.

"We know that it's the genetic makeup of the sow that determines the animal's maximum milk-producing capacity, but environmental factors such as the nutrients she receives that determines what proportion of the sow's milk production capacity actually is expressed," Sauber said. The amount of milk produced daily by the two sow types was similar when their daily supply of nutrients from feed and the mobilized body stores were equal, he noted.

Sauber presented the results of the study to researchers, students and extension specialists gathered in Rapid City for the national meeting of the American Society of Animal Science, July 23-26. Nearly 2,000 people attended the meeting.

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — No one was certain of whether or not a record was set Monday with 780 dairy cattle exhibited in the state youth dairy show, but the amount of participation was one of the most in memory, according to show organizers.

The 41st state youth dairy show — actually six different breed shows — was held in the Large Arena of the state Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg, in conjunction with the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show event.

The PAADS features six national dairy cattle shows, the Pennsylvania Holstein Association's Fall Championship Show, and the state youth dairy show.

There are other competitions as well, including an Invitational youth Dairy Cattle Judging Contest, as well as a dairy management contest, and state dairy judging forum (competition).

In the state youth dairy cattle shows, all cattle must first qualify by winning blue ribbons at district-level shows.

While the state cattle show was combined last year with 4-H and FFA members, this year, qualifying district shows were also combined.

While the elimination of distinction between 4-H and FFA members didn't alter the total number of district shows held, it was done to make it easier for youth to attend qualifying shows, and thus have an opportunity to participate in the state show.

The state youth dairy shows featured a structure change this year. Traditionally, dairy shows are organized to show animals, according to age classification, from youngest to oldest.

However, this year that was changed. The mature, milk-bearing animals were exhibited first, before the junior-aged animals of the breed.

This was done primarily to allow youth with Holsteins to milk out their adult animals in enough time on Monday, so that those show cows could make enough milk to be in proper show form for

INVEST IN YOURSELF

Thru Milk Urea Nitrogen TESTING At PA DHIA

Economics of MUN Testing

- Protein is the most costly ingredient in dairy rations.
- Some farms overfeed protein by 10-20%.
- Overfeeding protein by 20% would cost producers about $50/cow/year
  > 100 cows = $5000/year
- Cost of MUN testing is 15¢/cow/month
- MUN testing can signal excess protein feeding or energy imbalance. If correct adjustments are made it could significantly improve the efficiency of milk production and conception rate.

possible inclusion in the following day's state Holstein Fall Championship Show.

It was done for all breeds, since showing adults first allows the owners to have their milk-bearing animals milked out and relieved of that discomfort. Otherwise, the adult animals have to wait until the end of the show to get milked out, and with youth dairy shows, there is typically a much stronger representation among the younger ages of cattle. This is because it takes several years to raise a number of milk-bearing cattle, which generally requires that the youth have to be older to have raised that many cattle of milking age.

The type judge of the Holstein show was Fowler Branstetter, of Edmonton, Ky., while Tom Arrowsmith, of Peach Bottom, served as showmanship judge.

Norman Hill, of Woodbine, Md., served as type judge of the Milking Shorthorn, Guernsey, and Brown Swiss shows. John Foster II, of Petersburg, was showmanship judge.

Alta Mae Core, of Salvisa, Ky., served as type judge for the Ayrshire and Jersey shows, while Cathy Pavelski, of Susquehanna, served as showmanship judge for those shows.

Penn Gate Farm Shows

Holstein championship: Ore Farm Vintage Jasmine, owned by Tara Kocher, of Golden Dream Holsteins in Mifflintown.

Tara, daughter of Donald and Nancy Toms, of Mifflintown, said that her winning young 3-year-old was scored 87-points last December, but it is to be scored again soon.

According to Kocher, the 3-year-old had been dry up to six days prior to Tuesday's show, but had won all the dry cow classes in which Tara entered the cow this past show season.

The reserve intermediate champion of the open division was junior 3-year-old Hearts Desire Jethro Carla, owned by David Kocher (breeder of Tara's champion), of Pennsylvania Furnance.

Both open division intermediate champions were also the youth division intermediate champions.

The junior champion of the open division was Cha-Do Stardust Twinkle-TW, a fall yearling bred and owned by Trisha McIlwain, of Cha-Do Farm in Canton. The Browndale Stardust daughter was also the junior champion of the youth division.

The reserve junior champion of the open division was Castlemont Astre Trisha, a spring yearling out of Duregal Astre Starbuck, owned by John Castrogiovanni, of Castlemont Farms in Montrose.

The reserve junior champion of the youth division was a fall yearling, Tri-Day Astrid, shown by Matthew Day, of Tri-Day Holsteins in Shippensburg. Aslo a Duregal Astre Starbuck daughter, it was second in its age class in both shows to McIlwain's junior champion.

The premier exhibitor of the show was Campbell-Run Farms in Ford City. Campbell-Run houses cattle shown by the Mark Campbell family, and some jointly owned by the Campbells and either/or the Doug Beatty family and Alex Claypoole.

Their first place winner in the 100,000-pound milk cow class, an almost 10-year-old cow, Wind-Drift A J Natema, out of sire Bridon Astro Jet, was also named the winner of this year's George M. Knight Total Production Award.

The award recognizes both showring performance and dairy production. Natema's best production record was 35,728 pounds of milk, 1,428 pounds of fat and 1,052 pounds of protein in a 305-day lactation (twice-per-day milking) that started when she was 6 years, 5 months old.

Hughes Honored At National Conference

LOGAN, Ohio — Chester D. Hughes, extension livestock agent for Lancaster County Pennsylvania Cooperative Extension Service, was honored at the Professional Improvement Conference of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents (NACAA), held Sept. 1-5, in Nashville, Tenn., according to Henry Bartholomew, national chair of the Communications Commiteee for NACAA.

Hughes was awarded a plaque and cash award for placing third place nationally in the news feature category.

The Excellence in Communication awards are to honor extension professionals from across the country for outstanding production of educational information in radio, video, news columns, and other educational materials. The Excellence in Communications Program had more than 1,000 entries in 1996.

2-Year-Old Takes Reading Fair Holstein Trophy

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

The grand champion won over a 4-year-old, with both displaying "beautiful fore-udders, with soundness and very correct throughout," said Don Seipt, Easton, judge for the show.

The reserve was the 4-year-old, Strumpland Leadman Patience, shown by Dwane Stump for Doyle Stump, Bernville.

In the junior show, Seipt liked the 6-year-old cow, Sonnen-Springs Marr Camera (S: Lutz-Brookview Marvel-ET, D: Sonnen-Acres Very Codak) shown by Melissa Werley, Hamburg. Seipt said that the 6½ -year-old "shows a lot of style, balance, and symmetry, with a high, wide rear udder," and wears her age well.

Seipt picked the 3-year-old shown by Trisha Geist, Mertztown, as reserve. That Holstein was Reu-Hel Sambo Onyx (S: Reu-Hel Farms Blackstar Sambo, D: Red Fever S-Wind Opal-ET).

Junior champion at the Holstein competition of the Reading Fair Dairy Show was awarded to Suzie Sattizahn, Bernville, for her winter yearling, Cor-Phil Raider Percillia (S: Hanoverhill Raider-ET, D: Cor-Phil Royal Paulene). Showing for Suzie was her sister, Jessica Luckenbill.

Seipt told the exhibitors and audience about the junior champion, "I really like this winter yearling. It has a tremendous combination of balance, style, dairyness, and correctness throughout."

Jessica said her sister, Suzie, has won several Reading Fair champions. Jessica herself picked up master fitter and showman in both the junior and open shows the night before.

Seipt picked the reserve junior champion shown by Gregory Davis, Kutztown. Davis showed the fall yearling, Daview Jed Nina (S: Juniper Rotate Jed, D: Donegel-Creek Bell Nita).

Altogether there were a total of 44 exhibitors and about 75 animals. This was the second year in a row for the Reading Fair location at the Kutztown Fairgrounds until the completion of the new Reading Fairgrounds complex near the 4-H and extension center in Leesport.

Following is a list of show placings.

Tioga County Junior Dairy Show Boasts Nearly 200 Entries

CAROLYN N. MOYER
Tioga Co. Correspondent

WHITNEYVILLE (Tioga Co.) — The Tioga County Junior Dairy Show started with fierce competition among all 4-H and FFA members as they competed for the grand champion showman title. After competing in each individual age group, Laura Fitch emerged from the group to accept her prize.

At the same time, the fitting competition was being conducted with winners being named in each age category.

After the early morning competition recently, youth focused on the type judges as Steven Shaw of Williamsburg judged the Holsteins and Thomas Smith of Palmyra evaluated the colored breeds.

Cathleen Norman led the pack in the Jersey show with her champion senior 2-year-old Normanadell Jedd Payge. In the reserve champion position was Christie Wolcox's 5-year-old Duncan's Dollar Nina Noel. Cris Wood's Rog-Al BSB Inspiration, a winter calf, was named the junior champion Jersey, while a spring calf owned by Jennifer Tomlinson, Kickamoo Blaine Lindsey, was named the reserve junior champion.

The grand champion Ayrshire was owned by Stefanie Long. Her animal, S&M Ayr Mistral's Carla, was a junior 3-year-old. Derek Long showed the reserve grand champion animal, junior 2-year-old Ter-Lin Sailor Renee. The junior champion Ayrshire was shown by Tricia McIlwain. Her winter calf, Redshale-Ridge Heli Go-Go, won that title. The reserve junior champion was a junior calf owned by Bradley Wales, Blue-Devils Kent Bomb.

The junior and reserve junior champion Brown Swiss received the title of grand and reserve grand champion as their portion of the youth show drew to a close. Lisa Fitch's summer yearling, Rockyslope RL Blend Shelby, was named the junior and grand champion of the show and Buttos Horizon Hattie, a winter yearling owned by Jacob Tomlinson, was the reserve junior and reserve grand champion.

David Kriner captures all the champion positions with his Guernseys. In the top spot was grand champion Castles King Flash Gloria, a 5-year-old. In the reserve position was Castles Dairy Patsy, a junior 2-year-old. In the junior champion spot was Wheatland Jasper Ginger, a winter yearling. The reserve junior champion was spring yearling Wheatland Valiant Mamie.

A list of the top three placings in each class follows:

Animal Agriculture and the Environment Conference Set

ITHACA, N.Y. — Many good farm managers need to know more about the potential impact manure mangement practices can have on the quality of water resources and life in rural communities. Community leaders need a better understanding of the challenges faced by farmers as they deal with new neighbors, new environmental scrutiny, and economic uncertainty. A North American conference titled Animal Agriculture and the Environment: Nutrients, Pathogens, and Community Relations will be held December 11-13, 1996 in Rochester, New York to explore these issues.

This event will be an educational opportunity for those who seek a greater understanding of the potential impact of animal agriculture on the quality of water and rural life. The target audience for the conference includes producers (dairy, poultry, swine, and beef) and their advisers; community officials and their consultants; state/province regulatory agencies and legislatures; cooperative extension and university educators; crop consultants; rural land owners; soil and water conservation district staff; federal government staff; and watershed managers.

The conference will begin with an overview of trends in animal agriculture and environmental issues. Then, a series of presentations will provide an in-depth understanding of environmental concerns including pathogens, phosphorus, nitrogen, streams, and farm nutrient balances. This will be followed by presentations describing management practices to protect the environment and improve relations with local communities. Manure handling, land application, odors, and nutrient balances will be reviewed as well. The last day of the conference will include presentations on public policy including EQIP (Environmental Quality Incentives Program) and CAFOs (Concentrated Animal Feeding Operations) and the cost of environmental protection to producers.

On Thursday evening, an informal discussion on environmental concerns and solutions will be held. Speakers and registrants will have the opportunity to voice their concerns, ask questions, and share perspectives concerning the interaction among animal agriculture, the environment, and communities.

A preconference workshop concerning nutrient management software is scheduled for December 11 from 8:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The workshop will begin with a comparative review of twelve nutrient management software packages. Then, four software packages will be reviewed in-depth followed by a discussion session. The packages that will be discussed are: Cornell's nutrient management software, Penn State's nutrient management software, Farm Works' map-based nutrient planning software, and Cornell's Net Carbohydrate Protein Model. Attendence is limited to those registered for the conference. The fee for attending the workshop is $40.

Conference registrants from universities or not-for-profit organizations are invited to bring educational displays or posters on topics related to the conference focus. The poster session will allow conference registrants to share details of successful educational programs, important research, successful farm/community interactions, or environmental improvement programs. The format and time will depend on how many registants want space for an educational display. A form to request space for a poster or display is available from the Northeast Regional Agricultural Engineering Service (NRAES).

The conference is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture — Agricultural Research Service; the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture, Food, and Rural Affairs; the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation; Cornell Cooperative Extension; the New York State Water Resources Institute; the New York State Soil and Water Conservation Committee; the Northeast Dairy Producers Association; and NRAES.

The conference planning committee includes Peter Wright of the Department of Agricultural and Biological Engineering at Cornell University; Don Hilborn of the Ontario Minstry of Agriculture, Food, and Rural Affairs; Les Lanyon of the Department of Agronomy at the Pennsylvania State University; Michael Toombs of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture, Food, and Rural Affairs; Ron Pitt of the Department of Agricultural and Biological Engineering at Cornell University; and Marty Sailus of NRAES.

The registration fee is $150 in U.S. funds if postmarked on or before November 22, 1996; $175 in U.S. funds if postmarked after November 22 and for walk-ins. The fee includes admission to the conference, one lunch, break refreshments, and a copy of the conference preoceedings. Checks should be made payable to NRAES. All major credit cards are also accepted. Refunds must be requested by November 22, and there is a $25 fee to process a refund.

A block of rooms has been reserved at the Rochester Mariott Thruway Hotel in Rochester, New York (the conference site) for conference participants. To reserve a room, call the Marriott at (716) 359-1800. Mention "Animal Agriculture" to receive the special conference rate of $72 for a single room and $75 for a double room. Reservations must be made by November 22, 1996 to receive the special conference rate. After that date, the hotel will no longer hold rooms at the conference rate, and reservations will be accepted on a space and rate availability basis.

Conference brochures containing a complete conference program, a registration form, directions to the hotel, and other information are available from NRAES. To order one or more free brochures, contact NRAES, Cooperative Extension, 152 Riley-Robb Hall, Ithaca, NY 14853-5701; phone (607) 255-7654; fax (607) 254-8770; or e-mail nraes@cornell.edu.

National FFA Relocates To Indianapolis

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — The National FFA Organization announced plans to relocate its business operations to Indianapolis by 1998. This move will mean the relocation of 85-plus employees from the National FFA Organization offices in Alexandria and the National FFA Foundation in Madison, Wis. The location for the new National FFA Center has not been determined.

At the same time, the FFA will support an enhanced national headquarters for agricultural education and the FFA in Washington, D.C., with leadership from the United States Department of Education. The goal is to enhance relations between FFA and national leaders in education and agriculture, while trimming expenses and increasing efficiency in business operations. Staff in Indianapolis will make operational decisions and deliver programs to members and advisers while leaders in Washington, D.C., will focus on building national connections and establishing direction for the organization.

"We believe that moving FFA business operations to Indianapolis and maintaining a headquarters in Washington, D.C., strengthens agricultural education and FFA for the future. It improves our ability to make a positive difference in our members' lives and fulfill the mission of agricultural education and the FFA," said Larry D. Case, national FFA adviser and chairman of the National FFA board of directors. "The headquarters reconnects us with agriculture and education on the national level, and the business operations enable us to serve our students and teachers effectively and efficiently."

The decision to move the National FFA Center to Indianapolis, which concluded an extensive cross-country search, was based on the city's healthy economy and living environment. The organization hopes to reduce operating expenses and reinvest savings in programs and services for members. Indianapolis' quality of life and low cost of living also may make it easier to attract and retain top quality FFA staff. The city's proximity and accessibility to many FFA chapters will facilitate visits to agricultural education programs across the country, bringing staff closer to the students and teachers they serve.

"It was important to the six national FFA officers that we represent the views and interests of our members in making this decision," said Seth Derner, national FFA president. The national officers, who vote with the National FFA Board of Directors, are students elected to lead and represent their fellow members. "As we traveled to conventions and workshops during the year, we had the opportunity to talk to members and advisors across the country. The diverse opinions and concerns they expressed are important and we considered them carefully. In the end, we made the decision to move based on what we heard in the field and what we believe to be best for the future of FFA and agricultural education."

The new Indianapolis office will be able to house more personnel and provide access to more technology than the current facility. "This will allow us to plan for and meet the needs of a growing and changing FFA membership," Case said. "We are excited to be moving to a location that will allow us to more effectively build strategic alliances with local and national businesses." In addition, FFA officials see the Indianapolis location as offering greater access to top agriculture and education experts from leading universities.

Lambs Resold To Benefit Lancaster 4-H Clubs

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

QUARRYVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — The big prices were reserved for the little lambs at the Solanco Fair livestock auction last Friday night.

Allison Hughes' 130-pound grand champion sold for $10 per pound to Kline's Septic Service in Salunga and was put up for resale to benefit the Lancaster County 4-H clubs. The lamb sold the second time for $2.05 to Jim and Eleanor Kreider, Quarryville. Tiffany Dean's 116-reserve grand champion sold for $13.50 per pound to Dr. Richard Albright, Jr., Lancaster. The Albright family also put this lamb up for resale to benefit the Lancaster 4-H clubs, and the second price was $5 per pound from Edgefield Farms, Quarryville.

The grand champion steer was again bought by Ferguson and Hassler, Quarryville. Hope Long's 1,150-pound grand champion sold for $4.05 per pound. Long also had the grand champion at the fair last year, which Ferguson and Hassler bought for $4.85 per pound.

The reserve grand champion, shown by Jessica Schmidt, sold for $1.70 per pound to K & S Inc., Quarryville. Schmidt's steer weighed 1,210 pounds.

In the swine sale, Ashley Rohrer's 270-pound grand champion sold for $1.70 per pound to Shady Birch Farms, Quarryville, and Alex Ranck's 262-pound reserve grand champion sold to Stoltzfus Feeds, Gap, for $3.30 per pound.

The sale averages without the grand champions are: steers, $.93; hogs, $1.20, and sheep, $1.67.

Auction services and supplies were donated by Lloyd Kreider, New Providence; Dale Stoltzfus, Gap; Ron Bard, Quarryville, and Randy Ranck, Lancaster.

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — There were only seven dairy animals in the Ephrata Fair show, but Judge Wendell Mickelson, local dairy service man, picked a veteran show winner for the grand champion.

C. Wadden Counsler Zena, an aged cow showing dry, was the grand champion. You will know Zena as the grand champion of both the Lancaster County 4-H show and the Elizabethtown Fair dairy show. She is shown by Danny Bollinger, Manheim.

Creek Project Sponsors Pasture Walk

NARVON (Lancaster Co.) — The Pequea-Mill Creek Project will hold a pasture walk on Tuesday, Oct. 15 from 10 a.m. -noon here at the David E. Beiler farm.

There are many different strategies and styles of grazing. One of the best ways to learn how to design or fine-tune a grazing system that fits your goals, desires and needs is to learn what other people are doing and why they are doing it.

The topics to be featured on this pasture walk are establishing and managing new pasture seedings, the use of spring and fall grains and summer annual forages such as pearl millet and grazing corn, extending the grazing season with tall fescue and brassicas, and managing horses on pasture.

In addition, grazing management issues such as paddock size, backfencing, cleanup groups, mowing, pasture watering systems, and cleaning up muddy areas will be addressed.

New from – Great Plains

12' End Wheel No-Till Drill

No-Till technology and maximum productivity in a 12' size

All of the benefits of Great Plains no-till technology are now available in a new 12 foot size. The new 12' End Wheel No-Till drill is designed to handle the planting needs of small to medium sized operations with maximum productivity.

Built to the high quality standards of Great Plains, the 12' End Wheel No-Till drill will plant in the most demanding of no-till conditions with extreme accuracy.

The end wheel design makes this drill extremely maneuverable. Keeping all ground-working com-ponents in-line with the end wheels prevents openers from bulldozing or bridging when working in rolling terrain. The end wheels also act as stabilizers to hold the openers steady when seeding on slopes.

Excess debris is no problem for this unit. Opener and coulter stagger of 10 3/4" allows trash to flow evenly and freely. No-till coulters create a mini-seedbed allowing openers to concentrate on seed placement.

Planting depth adjustments are quick and easy with the "T"-handle depth control system. State of the art solid seed tubes ensure that the seed exits the chute with "zero motion drop" for ultimate seed placement accuracy. The optional Seed-Lok™ wheel then presses each seed into moist soil for optimum germination.

The improved straight-arm, solid stand opener design, combined with the cushioned press wheel provides maximum down pressure with less wear and tear.

The large, welded seed box holds up to 2.4 bushels per foot. Exclusive Great Plains fluted feed seed cups coupled with the 4-speed gearbox deliver outstanding accuracy in varying rates and seeding conditions.

Designed with safety in mind, the 12' End Wheel No-Till drill comes equipped with transport safety lights and a wider walkboard.

Accessories available with the 12' End Wheel No-Till drill include: folding markers, coil tine harrows, seed box agitator and small seeds attachment.

Same-Day Test Reports Encourage Quick Management Decisions

DAVID BIGELOW
Training Coordinator

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Upon completion of the monthly testing procedures at each farm on her circuit, JoAnn Moser's dairymen receive a vast amount of information in the form of Westfalia Dairy Plan reports.

"Each of my dairymen have grown to expect same-day test reports upon completion of milking," said JoAnn, a 16-year veteran technician serving parts of the Berks County Pa. DHIA membership. Some of the popular reports include the persistency report, milk overview report and the reproductive report.

The persistency report is extremely important because a dairyman such as Carl Rabenold, a Berks County dairyman, can adjust his top-dress levels immediately to off-set possible grain wastage. Carl also utilizes the reproduction report to use as a guide in checking pregnancies.

Another unique tool used on the Rabenold farm is the documentation of calving ease. This is extremely important in selecting service sires as well as receiving a rebate on semen costs.

Ask your PA DHIA technician today about the different dairy management same-day tests reports or call PA DHIA at 1-800-344-8378 if we can assist in your dairy operation.

JoAnn Moser, Pa. DHIA technician and past recipient of the distinguished technician and Carl B. Hollinger Memorial Award, assists Carl and Brenda Rabenold in selecting same-day test reports while she holds their 6-year-old daughter Samantha.

Holstein Club Plans Annual Meeting

GETTYSBURG (Adams Co.) — The annual meeting of the Adams County Holstein Association will be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 29, at the fire hall in East Berlin.

The plans were confirmed on Sunday, Sept. 15, during a picnic meeting of the board of directors hosted by Mr. and Mrs. John Clowney at their home in Gettysburg.

President Kevin Holtzinger presided at the meeting. Phil Van Lieu, chair of the annual meeting committee, said that reservations at $7 per adult, and $3.50 for children ages 4-10 will be accepted by any member of the board of directors through Oct. 18. Four-H FFA, and Junior Holstein dairy project members in good standing will be guests of the association.

Make reservations with John Clowney, (717) 334-7011; Kevin Holtzinger, 259-7211; Alan Zepp, 624-4838; Phil Van Lieu, 259-9077; Josie Riser, 334-6919; Chris Wood, 359-7407; Dean Lobaugh, 677-8789; Donald Rhodes Jr., 624-2724; or Rose Wenger at 359-9620.

President Holtziner acknowledged the successful twilight meeting of the association held at the John Hess farm on July 11. John Clowney reported a very successful ice cream sale fundraiser held at the Kingsdale fire company carnival.

Appreciation was expressed for those individuals and firms who sponsored trophies for the South-central Pennsylvania Championship Show and the dairy show at South Mountain Fair. Chairperson Josie Riser announced that 140 dairy animals were shown, half of these in the Holstein show.

Christine Wood agreed to head the cheese sale project. Orders for five-pound blocks of mild cheddar cheese will be accepted through Oct. 9, by any member of the board of directors. The cost is projected to be $15 per block, with delivery set for the week of Nov. 11.

As chair of the Junior Activities Committee, Wood announced that milk, protein, and progressive breeder awards will be presented at the annual meeting. She also announced that she would provide transportation to the Junior Holstein Convention scheduled for Feb. 7-9 in Reading.

Wood stated that applications for the association-sponsored scholarship would be accepted through Oct. 9. Applicants must be members of the Pennsylvania Junior Holstein Club in Adams County. Scholarship applications are available at the Adams County Extension Office, 1135 Chambersburg Road, Gettysburg, PA, 17325.

President Holtzinger appointed a nominating committee to consist of Robert Clowney, Daniel Waybright, and Dean Lobaugh, chair.

Marvin Brown presented a state director's report.

In concluding the meeting, Holtzinger reminded the directors that additional bred heifers are needed by Oct. 1, to fill an export order to Egypt. Heifers weighing 1,050 pounds, born between 9/15/94 and 2/15/95 and bred between 4/15/96 and 7/1/96, passing the necessary health tests, will be considered.

Snyder Again Wins Big At Reading Sheep Show

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — Count 'em: eight supreme champion rams. Two supreme champion ewes.

Bruce Snyder has gotten ahold of a lot of trophies in his many years of showing at the Reading Fair.

He did it again on Monday at Reading, easily picking up supreme champion ewe with his Dorset fall ewe lamb.

Bruce, 21, is the son of Forrest and Lorraine Snyder, Kutztown. He said the champion ewe is a combination of genetics and management, and mostly genetics.

Showing for Bruce has proven a real challenge this particular week, as he was also competing at the Bloomsburg Fair Sheep Show. In the coming weeks, he will be showing at the Keystone International Livestock Exposition in Harrisburg and back again at Harrisburg at the state Farm Show.

Dr. Robert Herr, Nix Besser Livestock Company in Narvon, said there was one ram that "is the most complete of the group today." The sheep judge picked the homebred Southdown ram exhibited by Amanda Miller as supreme champion ram.

Amanda, 11, is the daughter of Ron Miller and Joan Miller of Mertztown. She said this is her first Reading supreme championship, won with "Spot."

Russell Redding, Pennsylvania deputy secretary of agriculture, marketing, promotion and program services, spoke to those who attended the sheep show. He said that the Reading Fair, one of 122 fairs in the state, was one of many that the state would attend this year. Redding presented a special showmanship award from the Pomona Grange to Kelly Glaser, showmanship champion.

In all, there were a total of 27 exhibitors at the sheep show. There were 75 sheep in the breed show and 36 in the market lamb classes.

Following is a list of show placings from the showmanship and breed shows Monday.

Bollinger's Winning Streak Edges Out Competition At Ephrata Fair

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Winning two nights in a row was even too much for Amy Bollinger to believe possible. Nevertheless, she claimed both the grand champion market hog and market lamb titles at the Ephrata Fair on consecutive nights.

With her no-name purebred Hampshire, Amy swept the coveted title despite heavy competition from 114 competitors.

Judge Ron Miller, administrator of agricultural fairs for the Department of Agricultural, said that generally he doesn't select a heavyweight for the champion, but that Amy's Hampshire was so much meat and muscle that butchers would enjoying cutting into that he couldn't bypass it.

Earlier this year, the no-name Hamp had also taken reserve honors at 4-H Roundup and at E-town Fair in the non-sale lambs. The next hurdle for the Hamp is competition in Amy's hometown of Manheim where he will then be sold. At Ephrata, Amy also showed the champion Shropshire ewe.

"I always do well with sheep that I purchase from Ed Hess," the 17-year-old said.

A junior at Manheim Central High School, and a FFA and 4-H member, Amy and her siblings have been in sheep-winning circles for years.

In fact, Amy's older sister Tracy took the grand champion showmanship award. In 11 years of showing, Wednesday night was the first time Tracy won the award at Ephrata although she had accomplished the feat at other fairs.

Judge Miller selected Tracy for her outstanding ability to move her sheep smoothly and calmly.

A Manheim Central High School graduate, Tracy remains active in FFA and is employed by Lancaster DHIA. She plans to marry in March, but promises to keep her ewes.

Ryan Donough showed the reserve champion market lamb with his champion mediumweight. He had also shown the champion lightweight.

Jennifer's ewe Anvana captured the title with Keith's Bubba taking the reserve title over all breeding sheep.

Anvana had won at E-town last year. Jennifer previously purchased the sheep from her Aunt Judy Moyer.

Jennifer and her brothers, children of Jay and Joanne Zimmerman, compete with each other in the show ring. Jennifer said that her brother Jimmy usually does better than her. But Jennifer has had her fair share of accomplishments in the past three years and this fair was no exception. She also took reserve champion honors in showmanship after placing first in the intermediate division and had the reserve champion ram over all breeds with her champion in the Southdown breed.

If the name Bubba sounds familiar, it is because Keith and his twin brothers, Jeff and Jerry, have this idiosyncrasy of calling every one — and they have a lot — of their prize winning sheep Bubba.

Keith was evasive as to whether or not this particular Bubba was a former winner at Ephrata, but he did say he purchased the Suffolk ram from Penn State and it won at Denver Fair earlier this month.

Keith also showed the champion Cheviot ewe.

Keith, Jeff, and Jerry are the sons of Sharon and Raymond Bollinger of Ephrata.

Their cousins, Tracy and Amy Bollinger, are the daughters of Eugene and Carol Bollinger of Manheim.

In the Dorset breed, Jessica Stoltzfus took champion ewe, which went on to be named reserved champion ewe over all breeds. Radell Peters showed the champion Dorset ram.

The Columbia breed champion ram and ewe were shown by Amy Haines. The champion Hampshire ram and ewe were shown by Jimmy Zimmerman; the champion Romney ewe and ram by Alexandra Lauffer; and the champion Jacobs ewe by Radell Peters.

Here is a partial listing of results.

Lampeter Selects 4-H And FFA Market Lamb Champs

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.) — Instead of one champion market lamb over all at the West Lampeter Fair, two are selected — one from FFA exhibitors and the other from 4-H.

On Wednesday, Kevin Boyer was the lucky FFA'er and Tiffany Dean the 4-H'er showing the champion market lambs.

The 17-year-old Penn Manor FFA'er said this was his first major win in two years of showing.

Judge Tim Fleener, a Robesonia sheep breeder, said Kevin's heavyweight lamb had tremendous muscle.

Kevin, who lives in Holtwood, had purchased the lamb from Ken MCCauley of Drumore. Kevin also placed first in junior showmanship.

Although only 10 years old, Tiffany's name is becoming known as a regular champion in sheep circles. Last year, she had also shown the 4-H grand champion market lamb at Lampeter and Solanco. This year, she has won the title at 4-H Roundup and last week the reserve at Solanco Fair.

For the Lampeter show, Tiffany showed Fuzz, a crossbred purchased from Lloyd Reiff of Strasburg.

The Lampeter Sheep Show is also a bit different than most other shows in that they have separate competitions for fitting and for showmanship.

Senior fitting honors went to Sara Strickler. It was close competition between Jessica Schmidt and Sara, but Fleener selected Sara's Dorset because he liked the way the butt was squared in trimming.

During senior showmanship, both Sara and Jessica again ended up at the top, but this time Jessica won. Fleener shuns showman who set their sheep by using their foot. He was impressed with Jessica's smoothness and liked the way she set the legs by using her hands.

In the Junior fitting division, Ashley Funk placed first Senior Fitting: 1. Sara Strickler; 2. Jessica Schmidt; 3. Allison Hughes.

Senior Showmanship: 1. Jessica Schmidt; 2. Sara Strickler; 3. Loren Hershey.

Lean, Muscular Swine Hog Lampeter Show

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.) — Muscle, thickness, lean, trim, and finished were traits exhibited by both the 4-H and FFA market hog champions at the Lampeter Fair on Wednesday afternoon.

With his 242-pound mediumweight champion Todd Rohrer bested heavier and lengthier hogs in FFA competition.

"This is our year — the best," Todd said of his Lampeter win and his sister Ashlee's success at Solanco Fair last week.

According to the Rohrers, their success is more unique than some because their champion hogs were not bred as show pigs but taked from commercial stock.

Todd and Ashlee raise 12-15 hogs on their parents' (Roger's and Kandy's) farm in Strasburg. The siblings exercise the hogs by running them around a corral.

Philip Charles' 264-pound hog battled leaner hogs in 4-H competition to walk away with the trophy. It was Philip's second trophy of the day because he had also captured the trophy for junior showmanship.

In only his second year of showing, the win was a surprise to 11-year-old Philip. He, two sisters, two brothers, and his parents' Clifford and Nancy Charles operate a 250-sow operation on their Lancaster farm.

During 4-H hog show, the Charles name dominated competition. Not only was Philip and several siblings earning top places, but his cousin Duane Charles was also making a name for himself by taking the light heavyweight champion title.

Tanya Aument took the senior showmanship trophy. The 16-year-old said that she started showing pigs when she was only six years old but took a few years off in between. This was her first trophy for showmanship.

"When I was younger, I thought I'd never make it (a championship). I used to end up on the bottom, but I learned, because the judge told me what I was doing wrong. I think every kid should try it," Tanya said.

Auction Service, which finally took the cake on its $100 bid and donated it to all the participating 4-H members to eat.

In between, the other ten buyers chipped in winning bids to raise a total of $1875 toward the Livestock and Meats Judging Teams travel to upcoming national competition. Other cake buyer-donors included Glatfelter Agri-Business and the York County Pork Producers, at $200 each, Hatfield Packing Company, Innerst Berkshires, Delbert Hake, The Early American Steam Engine Society, Lester Godfrey and Plain View Farm, all on $125 bids, and $100 contributors B&B Cake Enterprises, Southcentral Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association.

Offering of the Grand Champion market steer opened the livestock sale, with a spirited round of bidding for the 1163-pound winner. Glatfelter Agri-Business, York, bid last for the champion at $4.20 per pound for winning, first-time beef exhibitor, Duane Rebert, Hanover.

The Reserve Grand Champion followed, the project of 4-H beef showman Suzanne Bishard, York. Hoss's Steak and Sea House held out for the final bid of $1.70 per pound for the 1216 pound reserve winner. The regional restaurant chain then donated the steer back, with the proceeds of the second bidding to be split between the livestock and judging teams. Second buyer was Delwood Kitchens, Hanover at $1.10 per pound, and a $1337.60 additonal raised toward the travel funds of the two state winning teams.

Sale of the Grand Champion market lamb broke prior York County Junior Livestock Sale records when Oak Ridge Farms, Emmitsburg, Maryland, held out to a $10 per pound bid for Dover 4-Her Mike Burrell's 104-pound winning lamb.

Lebanon Valley National Bank was the final bidder on the Reserve Champion market lamb, exhibited by Matt Trostle, Red Lion. The regional bank purchased the 130-pound runnerup lamb on $3.10 bid.

Lane Innerst, Red Lion, sold her first Grand Champion market hog winner as the sixth offering in the sale. Hake Farm and Seed Service, Red Lion, took the 235-pound champion with a bid of $7.00 per pound.

Reserve Champion market hog, exhibited by Adam Sellers, Thomasville, rounded out the sale of York Fair junior livestock show overall champions. The 224-pound hog brought a final bid of $3.75 per pound from Hummel's Sausage, Glen Rock.

Weight division champions and reserves opened each of the swine, lamb and beef sales which followed. Lindsay Jones, East Berlin, was first through the arena in the swine sales, selling her 255-pound champion light heavyweight to Bel-Air Farm Supply, Bel-Air, Maryland.

Congressman Bill Goodling, Seven Valleys, 19th District, purchased the champion heavyweight, exhibited by Jessica Innerst, Red Lion. Reserve champion lightweight, shown by Bobbi Myers, Thomasville, went to buyer Jack Grim. Runnerup mediumweight, exhibited by Adam Sellers, Thomasville, sold to Janney, Montgomery, Scott, Inc., York.

Two buyers, D.R. Kern Plumbing and Heating, York, and L&L Ford, East Berlin, teamed to purchased Kelly Myers', Thomasville, reserve champion light heavyweight. Last of the champion swine offerings was the reserve champion heavyweight, shown by Kristi Ryder, Dillsburg, which sold to Kunkle Insurance, York.

Beasley Ford, York, purchased the champion medium weight market lamb from Julie Kern, York. Mike Burrell's champion, medium weight was purchased by Buchart Horn, York, and L&L Ford, East Berlin. New Holland Sales Stables was the buyer for Hanover junior exhibitor Lisa Moyer's reserve champion light medium weight.

Julie Moyer also had the reserve champion mediumweight, which sold to York Fair concessionaire Rocky Mountain Fudge, Alpha, Ohio. Buyer of the reserve champion light heavy weight, shown by Jennifer Flinchbaugh, York, was Douglas Equipment and Supply, York. Dick Rhine, Elizabethtown, purchased the last of the lamb division winners, the reserve champion heavyweight of Travis Flory, Red Lion.

Market steer offerings then opened with the champion lightweight of Jennifer Flinchbaugh, York, which sold to the buying trio of Hopewell Veterinary Service, Stewartstown, Rentzel's Auction and Equipment Service, Emigsville, and Glatfelter Agri-Business, York.

R.S. Delp, Seven Valleys, bid last on the champion medium weight steer, exhibited by Tammi Grubb, Hanover. Herman Hake, Etters, sold his champion heavy weight to Peiffer Nationwide Insurance, York. York County Homes and Shiloh Auto Sales teamed to purchase the reserve champion medium weight winner of Raymond Stough, Spring Grove. Thomasville 4-Her Bobbi Myers sold her reserve champion heavy weight to Wildasin Bedliners, McSherrystown.

Some purchasers in turn sold their animals to the commercial market at market values listed in the sales' catalog. Market prices for swine was 50-cents per pound, lambs under 100 pounds were market valued at 92-cents per pound and over 100 pounds at 82-cents per pound. Beef market prices stated ranged by weight levels from 45 to 63-cents.

All prices averages for the sale are up from those of 1995. Average for the 101 head of swine sold was $1.23 with the champions and $1.15 without the champions. The 83 head of market lambs averaged $1.52 with the champions and $1.40 without. A total of 31 steers sold, averaging $1.09 with the champions, and $.98 without the champions.

Angela Werley Reigns As State Dairy Princess

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The moment was electric. The two state alternates had been named and the remaining five finalists and the audience waited for Master of Ceremonies Grover Gouker to announce the judges' decision.

When Berks County Dairy Princess Angela Werley's name was called, the petite brunette appeared dazed as she took the traditional walk down the runway.

"This is a dream come true," she murmured in awe.

Selected from 29 contestants the new Pennsylvania dairy princess will represent the state in promotional duties for the dairy industry.

Assisting Angela in dairy promotion are two alternates, Meridith Weiderspahn of Crawford County and Lisa Fitch of Tioga County.

The judges' selection followed two days of rigorous judging. Each princess, representing one of 29 counties, had been individually interviewed and observed informally during the required presentations and speeches. In addition, each contestant needed to compile a scrapbook reflecting her work in county promotion.

Preliminary judging resulted in seven finalists chosen and announced on stage during the Saturday night banquet held at the Sheraton Inn-East in Harrisburg. In addition to Angela and the two alternates, the finalists included Robin Wilson from Bradford County, Emily Metz from Huntington County, Mandy Steward from Mifflin County, and Rebecca Carson from Bedford County.

The finalists were required to answer an impromptu question before the audience. The purpose of the question is to determine how poised one can remain under pressure — a required quality because dairy princesses face it in constant exposure to the public.

The question: What do you consider to be the most important skills in developing relationships with other people?

Lisa Fitch was the first to answer while the remaining finalists were taken to a soundproof room.

Lisa responded by saying that she considers listening to others an important skill, which helps in understanding each other and enjoying what's going on.

Angela said that she believes understanding is the most important skill in getting along with others. Through understanding and always trying your best to get along with others, she believes relationships will be built.

Meridith Weiderspahn said that outgoingness and friendliness go a long way in making it easy to talk with others.

Emily Metz said that she believes religion is the most important because it is God who brings us closer together. Through prayer, relationships are built with others.

Mandy Steward said that she believes a willingness to listen, lending a helping hand, and honesty are all requirements for developing relationships with others. "You

Outstanding speech awards go to Christina Mickey of Franklin County and Lisa Fitch of Tioga County.

Miss Congeniality is Robin Wilson of Bradford County.

For conducting the most promotions during this past year's reign, Yvonne Peterman of Lycoming County, right, receives the Tina M. Shultz Memorial Award. Runner-up is Jennifer Davis of Berks County.

can't have a relationship without trust," she said.

Rebecca Carson said that she considers always being yourself, sharing interests with other people, and asking God for guidance are skills needed to develop relationships.

Robin Wilson said that she considers it necessary to be able to talk about what you believe in such as the dairy industry, and to have the skills to listen rather than talk because things get done by listening.

Pennsylvania Dairy Princess Angela Werley is surrounded by siblings, Melissa, Pamela, and Matthew, and parents, Philip and Donna.

Awards for outstanding presentation go to Angela Werley of Berks County, left, and Amanda Meier of Somerset County.

Awards were given to Angela Werley and Amanda Meier of Somerset for outstanding presentations. Rebecca Carson and Julie Lockhart of Indiana County received honorable mention.

In her presentation, Angela portrayed a milk drop and its journey from the cow to the table. Her presentation included a singing ditty about being a milk drop.

Amanda's presentation on the "Amazing Houdina" portrayed the magic performed by cows to bring something good from grass and other "feats of amazing milk."

In speech competition, Christina Mickey of Franklin County and Lisa Fitch earned the top awards. Receiving honorable mention was Angela Werely.

Lisa envisioned "The Awful Nighmare" of life without dairy farmers and a reliance on imitation dairy products.

Christina Mickey spoke on "Banking Success" by outlining calcium dividents and penalties for not keeping a minimun balance.

Contestants voted for Robin Wilson, who was also a finalist, to receive the Miss Congeniality award. She is the daughter of Gordon and Mable Wilson, who farm 250-acres and milk 135 Holsteins in Rome.

In scrapbook competition, Meridith Weiderspahn and Julie Lockhart of Indiana Co. took top honors with Emily Metz and Amanda Meir receiving honorable mention.

Last year's state alternate Yvonne Peterman received the Tina M. Shultz Memorial Award for outstanding dairy promotion in her county. Runner-up for the award was last year's Berks County Dairy Princess Jennifer Davis.

In her farewell speech, outgoing Pennsylvania Dairy Princess Rhonda Kieklak gave warm thanks to the industry, family members, and especially her dad. She concluded by singing "How Could I Ask for More?"

Although only 19 years old, the new state dairy princess has plenty of hands-on dairy farm experience and has helped in dairy promotion since 1989.

While Angela was growing up

Donna Werley congratulates her daughter Angela as the new state dairy princess selected from 29 contestants.

Although her reign came to an end, Rhonda Kieklak's tribute to her dad, who she calls her "Unsung Hero" will no doubt leave its mark. Through her efforts, state legislation is being introduced to set aside a Farmers' Appreciation Day.

on the family's 130-acre Hamburg farm, her dad often told her, "Work builds character."

Sometimes while shoveling out manure, Angela believed that she had more character than necessary.

Angela owns 20 of the family's 130 Holsteins. She is a member of the Berks County Junior Holstein Club, the Pennsylvania Junior Holstein Executive Committee and is a teen leader of Northern Berks 4-H Dairy Club.

A sophomore at Penn State's Berks Campus, Angela was not sure how she would juggle college studies with dairy princess responsibilities. She said that she would either drop some classes or take the year off to devote to dairy princess promotion. Either way, her two younger sisters, Melissa and Pamela, lamented that they would need to take on Angela's farm chores. Although delighted with their daughter's opportunity to serve as state dairy princess, parents Phillip and Donna Werley said that it would mean more responsibility for the whole family. The Werleys also have a 5-year-old son Matthew.

Angela is a 1995 graduate of Hamburg Area Junior-Senior High School and a member of Mohrsville Church of the Brethren and its youth group.

First Alternate Meridith Weiderspahn is the daughter of Cheryl and Francis Weiderspahn of Cochranton. The family operate their 270-acre Yahweh Dairy Farm with its 70 Jerseys and Holsteins.

A senior at Cochranton Junior-Senior High School, Merideth is a member of art club, yearbook staff, and Bible Club. She has been a 4-H member for nine years and a county dairy maid for three years. She also works part time as a nanny and hopes to study child psychology in college.

Second Alternate Lisa Fitch is the 16-year-old daughter of Elwin and Charlene Fitch and has two siblings, Laura and Bryan. They milk Holsteins on their 259-acre Four Wynds Dairy Farm located in Roaring Branch.

A junior at Canton Junior Senior High School, Lisa is a member of American Field Service, the Foreign Language Club, SADD, and an alternate HOBY representative. She plans to attend Wilson College for equestrian studies.

Judges for the pageant were Jason Devino from Vermont, Bernie Heisner from Ohio, Bonnie Remsberg from Maryland, and Susan Reynolds from New York.

During the pageant, which celebrated the 40th year for Pennsylvania Dairy Princess and Promotion Services, Inc., former Pennsylvania dairy princesses introduced themselves. Look for a related article in this section.

For compiling the most impressive record of their dairy princess activities, scrapbook awards went to Julie Lockhart of Indiana County, left, and Merideth Weiderspahn of Crawford County.

During the reception held before the banquet, Alternate Bradford County Dairy Princess Julia Wenck serves milk punch and cheese to guests Benjamen Mickey of Franklin County and Susan Mickey of Lancaster County.

Angela portrays a milk drop in her award-winning presentation.

Amanda Meier is the "Amazing Houdina" in her award-winning presentation.

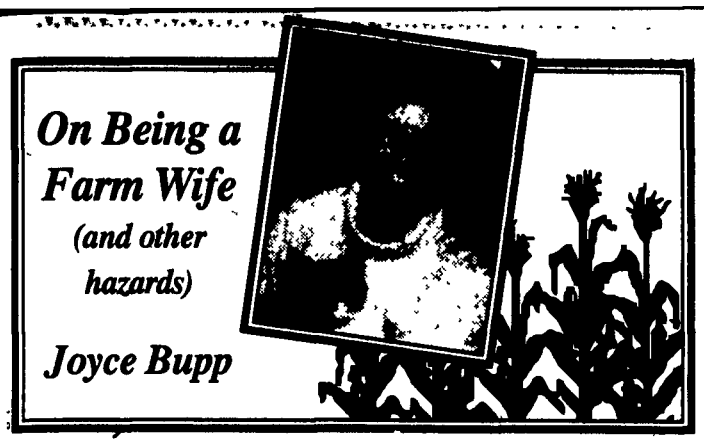
If It's Worth Your Investment Trust It To Hershey



Once upon a time, only farmers drove pickup trucks.

These sturdy, durable, hard-working vehicles were looked upon as a second-rate method of transportation. Pickups were good for hauling wire and fenceposts, bales of hay, horse and hog feed. Pickups were useful when there was trash to be moved and firewood to be hauled in from the woodlot.

You took pickups to town to fetch parts. Sometimes they doubled for livestock transportation, bringing in a couple of baby calves from a far pasture or taking the boar hog for a visit to the neighbor with a couple of young gilts.

Pickups were generally dusty, with mud — maybe manure — splattered wheels. Littered around the bed was an empty feedbag or two, a hammer and box of fencing hardware, spare tire and two old shirts used for rags, or for the dog to sit on when he rode along. In the cab you'd likely find some crumpled receipts, a pair of sunglasses with a lens missing, hay, straw and corn bits all over the floor, and dog hair on the passenger seat.

See, the dog liked to ride up front when it rained.

Heavy forbid that the family need to use the truck to shop for groceries, attend church or show up at a summertime or holiday reunion of kinfolk. And your daughter would have "died, just died!" to have been dropped off at a Friday night school dance in the truck.

But somewhere along the way of the last decade or two, the long-suffering pickup has grown from the proverbial ugly duckling to the beautiful swan of vehicular travel. Pickups are hot, hot, hot!

The sociel metamorphosis of the pickup has been underlined recently as kids, friends, and employees have acquired themselves glistening new pickups in yummy colors Grandpa wouldn't have been caught dead driving in. Most recently, our young, female herd assistant arrived at work having traded her sporty, candy-apple red car for a beautiful, teal-colored pickup. (Leaving only one individual around this place anymore who still drives a small, compact car, the equivalent of a vehicular dinosaur. Me.)

Employee Bob and I made the usual inspection of the new pickup on the block.

"Looks much too nice to be a farm truck," I observed.

"Yeah," he agreed. "Needs a few dents in the sides."

Some baler twine and a couple of tools thrown around the bed would add to the truck's authenticity as farm transportation, we figured. A bunch of soft drink cups tossed on the soft, gray carpet with a dirty sweatshirt or two. Silage dust on the finish and barn cat tracks up over the hood and roof. We offered to help give the truck a more "farmish" look.

The truck's new owner was not impressed with our suggestions.

Actually, we have two pickups here on the farm that are true, genuine, authentic farm ones. They're The Farmer's transportation. Both are battered, beaten, and more than broke-in. Both bought used. Both now having seen better days. Both in need of interior work, exterior work, body work, seat cover help. Both kept running by the ministerings of a dedicated, skilled neighborhood mechanic who thrives on challenges.

The heavier, four-wheel-drive does serious duty hauling forage wagons, the cattle trailer, snow plow and wet-spot-in-the-field tow jobs. On the lighter side is The Farmer's "parts truck," a little compact with a topper on the back which hides all the stuff that gets jammed in there and only rarely cleaned out.

Both have hauled kids, dogs, calves, seed corn, hydraulic oil, beans, fertilizer, baler twine, tools. They've also done duty lugging our skis, sleds, birdseed, corn, sleeping bags and coolers full of food for weekend hunting camp visits. And while their net book value is zilch, they're paid for . . . and they run.

You don't call trucks like that old.

Maryland FFA Poultry Judging Contest

The Liganore High FFA Chapter won the first place banner in the Poultry Judging Contest held Aug. 31 during the Maryland FFA and 4-H State Fair judging contests.

The contests are hosted by the Maryland State Fair at the Horse Sales Barn in Timonium, Md. The poultry contest is sponsored by the Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. as a special project of the Maryland FFA Foundation.

The high scoring individual for the Poultry Judging Contest was Chris Burch of the Liganore FFA Chapter. The Brunswick FFA Chapter took the second place banner in the contest.

Members of the Linganore 1st place team are: Chris Burch, Crystal Smith, Vicki Burch, and Danielle Antenberg.

According to contest superintendent Dr. Charles Waybeck of the Poultry Science Department at the Unviersity of Maryland, there were eight teams with 24 members participating. The contest included evaluation and placing of live birds, ready to cook poultry classes, and processed chicken products.

Co were also required to identify broiler parts and grade eggs for interior and exterior quality. In addition, oral reasons or written factors were required on some classes and a written multipe choice test was completed by contestants.

Charles Cramer of the Walkersville FFA chapter was the teacher chairmperson and supervised scoring.

The top scoring individuals receiving gold medals were: 1. Chris Burch, Linganore; 2. Amanda Imhof, Frederick; 3. Kevin Saylor, Walkersville.

Lamb For Special Occasions And Every Day

Changes in the weather signal the end of salad season and the beginning of heartier meals. For the tried and true meat and potatoes fan, it's time to head to the market for some great flavors for fall. Restaurant trends indicate that steak and potatoes are extremely popular. Hearty meals don't necessarily mean lots of preparation and cooking time. Hearty means full and satisfying flavors, not just a large quantity of food, and that makes lamb a great choice to fix at home.

American lamb is filling the meat counters at this time of the year and is a great way to celebrate National Lamb Month.

Cuts of lamb such as shoulder and lamb chops, center leg steaks and sirloin steaks cook in 10-15 minutes and are delicious with a sprinkle of salt and pepper or marinated in olive oil and garlic marinade. The cuts can be broiled, grilled, or panfried.

Lamb provides necessary nutrients such as zinc, iron, B-vitamins, and complete protein yet contributes only 7 grams of fat for each cooked 3-ounce serving.

Roasts take longer to cook, but they are quite simple to prepare. The small roasts take only 35 to 40 minutes per pound so they can be on the table in about an hour and 15 minutes.

Don't forget the delicious juices that you will have for gravy when you oven roast. It is quite simple to make a lamb roast a one-pan meal by cooking potatoes and other vegetables with lamb.

Another suggestion for a meal when you're gone for the day is a shoulder roast simmered in a slow cooker with onion and garlic. Add a green salad and a hearty bread and dinner is ready. Simmered shoulder roasts make great barbecue sandwiches as well.

Although lamb is available year-round, September is a great time to try something a little different in meal planning. Start with these recipes.

LAMB STEW

½ cup flour
2 pounds lean lamb, cubed
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
¼ cup beef broth
1½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon crumbled thyme
¼ teaspoon black pepper
6 carrots, sliced ½ -inch pieces
8 medium potatoes, cubed
28-ounces tomatoes, drained

Heat oil in heavy kettle. Place flour in plastic bag, add lamb cubes a few at a time to coat with flour, place in kettle and brown on all sides.

Stir in beef broth with salt, pepper, and thyme. Cover and simmer for 45 minutes.

Add potatoes and carrots, cook another 30 to 40 minutes or until vegetables are done.

Add tomatoes; heat the stew again and cook 5 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

B.J. Light

PATRICK'S IRISH LAMB SOUP

1½ pounds boneless lamb, cubed
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 medium onion, coarsely chopped
¾ cup water
1 teaspoon seasoned pepper
2 can (14½ -ounces each) beef broth
1 package brown gravy mix
3 cups cubed potatoes
2 cups thinly sliced carrots
2 cups shredded green cabbage
½ cup chopped fresh parsley, optional

Heat oil over medium-high heat in a large saucepan. Add lamb cubes and onion. Cook and stir in hot oil until lamb is brown. Drain off fat. Stir in water and seasoned pepper. Bring to boiling; reduce heat. Cover and simmer for 45 minutes.

Stir in beef broth and gravy mix. Add potatoes and carrots. Cover and simmer for 15 to 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Stir in cabbage; cook just until cabbage turns bright green Ladle into soup bowls, Sprinkle with parsley if desired. Makes 8 servings.

Honey Citrus Leg of Lamb is a wonderfully easy and attractive dish to prepare for guests.

HONEY CITRUS LEG OF LAMB

1 leg of lamb (5-7 pounds)
2 teaspoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup honey
½ cup water
1 small orange, sliced and seeded
1 lemon, sliced and seeded
¼ cup raisins or dry cherries
¼ cup chopped walnuts

For glaze, combine cornstarch, cinnamon, and nutmeg in 2-quart saucepan. Stir in honey and water until cornstarch dissolves. Add orange and lemon slices and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and simmer 5-10 minutes or until thickened; stir occasionally. Remove and discard orange and lemon slices; remove ¾ cup glaze and stir in raisins and walnuts. Set aside. Use remaining glaze as directed below.

Place leg of lamb, meaty side down, on rack in roasting pan. Roast at 325 degrees for 20-25 minutes per pound, or to internal temperature of 140 degrees for medium-rare, 25-30 minutes per pound, or to 160 degrees for medium.

Brush leg with remaining ½ cup glaze during the final 30 minutes of cooking. Remove from oven, cover and let stand 15-20 minutes. Internal temperature will rise approximately 10 degrees. Slice and serve with the glaze that you set aside.

CRISPY CORNMEAL LAMBURGER

12 ounces lean ground lamb
¼ cup finely chopped green onion
2 tablespoons seasoned fine dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon dried oregano, crushed
¼ cup cornmeal
4 rye hamburger buns, split and toasted

In a bowl, combine green onion, bread crumbs, garlic salt, and oregano; mix well. Add ground lamb; mix well. Form mixture into 4, 3½ -inch patties. Coat each patty on both sides with cornmeal.

Grill over moderate coals 4 to 5 minutes on each side to medium doneness or until no pink remains.

If desired, broil 5 inches from heat for 4 to 5 minutes on each side. Serve lamb patty on toasted rye buns with your choice of toppings. Serves 4.

Am. Lamb Council

MUSTARD-GLAZED RACK OF LAMB

2 racks of lamb
½ cup Dijon-style mustard
2 tablespoons sodium-reduced soy sauce
1 tablespoon olive oil
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 teaspoon dried rosemary leaves
¼ teaspoon ground ginger

Trim fat from lamb. In a small bowl, stir together mustard, soy sauce, olive oil, garlic, rosemary, and ginger. Place lamb, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer. Brush on mustard mixture. Roast in preheated oven at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 145 to 150 degrees for medium-rare. Let stand for 5 to 10 minutes before carving. Makes 8 servings.

Here is a recipe from Shasta Georgetti, the Washington County Dairy Princess.

PARMESAN BUTTER PAN BISCUITS

⅓ cup butter
2¼ cups flour
2 tablespoon grated parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon sugar
3½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon basil leaves
1 teaspoon chopped fresh parsley
1 cup milk

Heat oven to 400 degrees. In a 9-inch square baking pan, melt butter in oven. Meanwhile, in medium bowl, combine all ingredients except milk. Stir in milk just until moistened. Turn dough onto lightly floured surface. Knead 10 times or until smooth. Roll dough into 12x4-inch rectangle. Cut into 12 strips. Dip each strip into melted butter, place in same pan. Bake for 20-25 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 12 biscuits.

My Purse Is Missing!!
What Will I Do Now?

We have become very dependent on bits of paper and plastic in our lives, haven't we? We carry the keys to our finances and identity with us everywhere we go, risking that possible occurence that makes us cringe to even contemplate. Your purse or wallet is missing!

Perhaps stolen, perhaps "just" lost — you hope! Maybe it contains your driver's license, credit cards, ATM card, debit card, Social Security card, your checkbook, and maybe even money! The lost money may be the least of your worries.

A thief may indeed be interested in your cash, tossing the rest into the trash. The thief may try to use your credit cards. We hope that you have not written down your "PIN" number somewhere in your purse or wallet or checkbook for the thief to find.

An even scarier scenario may be that the thief will use all the papers to take on your identity to charge things and use your checking account. Thieves even can use your identity papers to open new instant accounts which will be in your name. They have been known to open new accounts with telephone and other utilities, use the service and then not pay at the end of the month. Your credit could be ruined by such fraudulent activity.

If your wallet or purse are stolen or lost, it is important that you act quickly to stop the thief's use of your identity. Dr. Cathy Bowen, Penn State Extension specialist in Consumer Issues gives us these suggestions if the terrible event occurs:

• Report the crime to the police immediately and get a copy of the police report because credit card companies, banks, and the insurance company may require you to show them the report or the police record number to verify the crime.

• Cancel all your credit cards immediately. (You DO have the list of the card numbers and telephone notification numbers, don't you?!) Yes, there is a limit to your liability if you notify the company quickly but the cards can be used to establish other accounts. Get new account numbers.

• Call the three credit reporting companies to report the theft and ask that your accounts be flagged. This will put credit bureau staff on notice to be aware of possible fraudulent access to your credit records. TRW 800-392-1122; Equifax 800-685-1111; Trans Union 800-851-2674.

• Order your credit report on a regular basis to monitor possible fraudulent use of your cards.

• Notify your bank of the theft. Cancel your checking and savings accounts and get new account numbers. Discuss the situation with the bank. If you use an ATM card, get a new card, account number and password or pin. Do not use the old ID password. Do not use the obvious number such as the last numbers of your social security number, your birthdate or your address number. Some people take an unusual word and spell it out on the keypad of the telephone to get a number.

• If you have a passport, notify the passport office to be on the lookout for anyone ordering a new passport fraudulently.

• If you have a telephone answering machine do not identify yourself with your name. Thieves can have your phone number and give it to stores trying to verify your identity for opening accounts.

• Alert utility companies that you have lost your identification and that someone may attempt to open accounts in your name.

• In a worst case scenario, where someone has been using your drivers' licene or social security numbers fraudulently, you may need to apply for replacements.

• If your keys have been lost or stolen, immediately change the locks on house and car.Do not have identification on your key chain.

Here are some preventive steps for you to take to make it harder for thieves to get into your identity:

Do Not carry your social security card, birth certificate or passport unless you have specific reason to do so. This makes it very easy for thieves to use your identity.

Do Not - carry more ID than you must have. When you go on a trip or shop out of your immediate area, leave the excess credit cards and ID at home. You might also consider dividing your money, cards and ID — some in your purse or wallet, some in a smaller purse in a pocket or hidden purse on your body.

Do Not leave your purse on a car seat or unattended in a grocery cart. Do carry a purse close to your body with a sturdy strap.

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send an SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible. Sometimes we receive numerous answers to the same request, and cannot print each one.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address.

QUESTION — An anonymous person asks for a recipe for tomato butter. She had never heard of it, but her husband ate it as a child about 65 years ago. He said it was a little spicy as he recalled. She asks if she can cook it down in a crock pot; should it be put through a food mill?

QUESTION — Lou Ann Pyle of Wilmington, Delaware, is looking for a recipe for Italian Cuccidata cookies.

QUESTION — Georgia P. Harding of Smithsburg, Maryland, is looking for a recipe for Oatmeal Pie. She also asks what spice or combination of spices can be used as substitutes when recipes call for nutmeg. Since allspice and pumpkin pie spice both contain nutmeg, they are not options.

QUESTION — Some time ago, Ruth Erb, Beavertown, requested a recipe for the brandy syrup starter for Rometoph Friendship Cake. The answer printed was not the one she needs. She has the recipe for the cake, but needs the starter recipe.

QUESTION — Donald Love would like recipes for fried pies, Montgomery pie, pumpkin fudge, and Rosy Red Apple Pie that uses ketchup as one of the ingredients.

QUESTION — Kathi Pifer, New Kingstown, would like a recipe to make V-8 juice. She would like to make a large amount to can.

QUESTION — Anna Bryan, Oxford, N.J., would like a recipe for Italian Spaghetti Sauce made from fresh tomatoes to freeze. She also asks if it can be canned with sausage and meatballs.

QUESTION — Mrs. D.L. Beiler, New Holland, would like to know how to make whipped butter, which is often served with waffles at restaurants.

QUESTION — Mrs. Perma Kemmerer, Danielsville, would like a recipe for Amish Friendship cake.

QUESTION — Chloe Zemek, Johnson City, N.Y., wants a recipe for apple brandy jelly.

QUESTION — A faithful New York reader would like a recipe for grilled chicken breast that tastes like that served by Shady Maple on Thursdays.

QUESTION — Laurie Woodrick, Belle Mead, N.J., writes that about five years ago, a recipe for Oil and Vinegar Jalapeno Pickles appeared in this paper. The contributor wrote that the pickles are the best she ever tasted and Laurie agrees. But she misplaced the recipe. If you clipped the recipe, please send it to use so we can print it again.

QUESTION — Shirley Lilley, Baltimore, Md., would like a recipe for gingerbread square cupcakes and frosting (a dollop on top of each) such as marketed by Valley Pride Bakery each fall season and sold in the Chambersburg area.

QUESTION — E.J. Beaver, Ringtown, would like a recipe for marinated mushrooms that taste similar to those served at Shaw's Deli on Tilghman St., Allentown. She also would like different methods for cooking trout. E.J. writes that her mother worked away from home and didn't have time to teach her to cook. Little by little, E.J. is learning to cook by using the recipes in this column.

QUESTION — Yvonne Musser, Lancaster, said she would like a recipe for buttermilk salad like they serve at Akron Restaurant in Akron.

QUESTION — Dixie Fix, Harrisonville, would like some recipes using stuffing tomatoes. She planted seed from Gurney's. All they had was yellow seed. Does anyone know if seeds are available for green stuffing tomatoes or if they can be stuffed like peppers and frozen?

QUESTION — Christine Ayers of Clarks Summit would like a recipe for apple cider doughnuts.

ANSWER — A faithful New York reader wanted a recipe for an old-fashioned strawberry shortcake with a cooked frosting. Thanks to a Bernville reader for sending this recipe.

Strawberry Shortcake

2½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour. Measure and add baking powder and salt. Sift again. Sift dry ingredients together. Beat eggs and add sugar, milk, and vanilla. Combine egg mixture with dry ingredients. Add melted butter and beat until thoroughly blended. Pour into two greased 8 inch cake pans. Bake 375 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

Cooked Frosting

1 cup sugar
½ cup water
2 stiffly beaten egg whites
2 cups crushed strawberries

Boil sugar and water until syrup spins a thread. Pour over stiffly beaten egg whites and add crushed strawberries. Mix thoroughly and spread between layers and on top of cake. Garnish with whole strawberries.

ANSWER — Cindy DePue, Saylorsburg, wanted a recipe to make apple butter in a 12-gallon copper kettle. Thanks to Doris Dibert of Everett, for sending this recipe.

Apple Butter

10 gallons of cider
1 bushel snitz (peeled, cored and sliced apples); 2 bushels of apples makes 1 bushel of snitz)
10 lbs. of sugar

To clean copper kettle, pour in a little vinegar and add salt. Heat and wipe with a cloth.

Pour cider into clean kettle and boil down to make room for snitz. After adding apples, it must be stirred constantly. Boil down until it thickens. Add sugar and continue stirring.

If it starts to foam and boil over, add a little butter. Do not have the flames of the fire come up on the sides of the kettle, or it will burn the kettle.

To determine when it is done, spoon a little out onto a saucer. Run the spoon through the apple butter to separate. If cider does not run into the separation, it is done.

When done, add cinnamon to taste (optional) before dipping into jars.

ANSWER — Charlotte Devilbiss, Taneytown, Md., wanted the address of the company that makes Clear-Jel. Thanks to Shirley Wartzenluft of Robesonia, Pa., who provided it. The address is National Starch and Chemical Co./Bridgewater, N.J. 08807. Thanks to another reader, Mrs. David Weidenhammer, who suggested that if these and other options don't work out, she should try contacting Dutch Valley Foods in Myerstown at 1-800-733-4191 or 717-933-4191 or by fax at 717-933-5466 because they sell Clear-Jel. Yoder Country Market, Rte. 669 PO Box 249, Grantsville, Md., 21536, phone 1-800-321-5148, also sells Clear-Jel in bulk and may be able to provide information who makes it, according to Mae C. Stancil, Bel Air, Md.

ANSWER — Marsha Getty, Oxford, wanted recipes for quick bread. Thanks to Linda Christman of Greencastle, Pa., for this recipe for Quick Rolls.

Quick Rolls

5 cups flour
2 cups warm water
4 tablespoons shortening
2 eggs
4 tablespoons sugar
2 packages active dry yeast
1 teaspoon salt

Let dough rise until double in size. Punch down once. Bake 350 degrees for 20 minutes

ANSWER — Since her husband is a diabetic, Vivian Kunkle, Oley, wanted recipes without sugar for yellow or white cake, apple dumplings, and cookies. Thanks to Mrs. David Weidenhammer of Bernville, for information that "Old-fashioned Amish and Mennonite Cookin'," published by Favorite Cookbooks, has 217 pages of sugarless favorites. The cookbook, copyright 1995, is by Susie Christner, RR#1 Box 125, Lowpoint, Illinois 61545, phone 1-800-443-5413.

ANSWER — Bonnie Bailey, Liberty, wanted a recipe for canning zucchini cubes with pineapple juice. She had the recipe, but a flood in her home destroyed it. Thanks to Hannah Hostetler of Danville, Pa., for this recipe.

Pineapple Zucchini

1 gallon cut-up zucchini
1 cup lemon juice
3 cups sugar or to suit taste
1 large can pineapple juice

Cook together for 15 minutes open kettle method.

Lamb

CURRIED LAMB ON RICE

1 pound lean lamb, cubed, trimmed of fat
½ cup onions, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced (optional)
1 tablespoon butter
2 teaspoons curry powder
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
1 medium tomato, peeled and chopped
1½ tablespoon flour
1 cube beef bouillon
1 cup boiling water
½ cup grated carrot
2 cups cooked rice

Brown lamb, onion, and garlic in butter. Add curry powder, salt, ginger, tomato, and flour; mix well. Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water and stir into browned meat mixture.

Cover and simmer 30 to 40 minutes or until lamb is tender. Stir occasionally while cooking. Toss carrot with cooked rice. Serve lamb over rice.

LAMB STUFFED PEPPERS

1 packet Italian Herb Lipton Soup Secrets
4 ounces feta cheese-crumbled
10 ounces chopped spinach, drain off liquid
4-6 bell peppers

Wash and core peppers. Mix together remaining ingredients and stuff peppers. Bake at 350 degrees for 55 minutes.

My husband Jere, daughter Rachel, and I live on a farm that has been in the family for more than 35 years. We produce market lambs from 60 ewes and fatten 2,500 hogs. We also farm corn, soybeans, wheat, alfalfa, and tobacco. In addition to this, Jere works as a mechanical engineer, and I as human resource manager for Sauder Eggs. We get a never-ending supply of help from Jere's parents who are semi-retired from farming, and live on an adjacent section of the farm. Because of our busy lifestyle, I am always looking for cooking shortcuts. At the peak of pepper season, I like to triple this recipe and freeze baked peppers 2-3 to a container. This is a favorite with my family that we can then enjoy all year long with little or no effort.

LAMB STEW

4-6 lamb shanks or chops (soaked 15 minutes in lemon juice)
Flour in plastic bag
1 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons bacon fat or butter
1 onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, chopped
1 cup long-grained rice
2 cups chicken broth
1 teaspoon basil
½ teaspoon sage
2 teaspoons rosemary
1 teaspoon parsley
1 or 2 cups beef consomme

Remove lamb from lemon juice. Shake in plastic bag with flour and paprika. Brown meat in an oven proof Dutch oven with cover in bacon fat or butter. Remove; set aside. Saute onion and garlic in same pan. Add rice, basil, sage, rosemary, parsley and chicken broth. Cover and place covered dish in oven. Bake at 350 degrees for 1½ hours. Add beef consomme if stew becomes too thick.

Note: I always add at least one cup beef consomme as it adds nicely to the flavor.

Having Fun, Raising Funds, Working Together: What 4-H Is All About

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) — 4-H membership is more than simply working on project books and competing at fairs. To Saddle Cinches 4-H'ers, it means raising money for charities . . . and of course having fun.

At this year's Elizabethtown Fair in late August, members of the Lancaster County-based horse club raised more than $880 to benefit various charities throughout the state.

How did they do it?

They opened up their stables, brought out their best ponies, and trotted them out to the fair. While at Elizabethtown, they used the beef show ring to stage pony rides for young and old (well, mostly young) at a cost of $1 a ride.

According to Lori Holton, Saddle Cinches 4-H club leader, 884 people rode the ponies, "a couple of adults but mostly kids, from babies to teens," she said. The money was used to benefit various charities, including the S. June Smith Center, the Four Diamond Fund, and the 4-H Therapeutic Riding Program.

At a recent interview at the five-acre Kendy Allen farm in Manheim, Holton said that the ponies used were all project ponies, including Shetlands, Welsh, small horses, and Chincoteagues. (Allen's farm is home to 17 horses, many 4-H project animals.) They sported a variety of names, including Red Mist, Black Mist, Partly Cloudy, and others.

The Saddle Cinches numbers 71 members this year, according to Pat Nichols, a leader who also helped out with the riding. Each night, about 15 4-H'ers were on hand to lead the horses to raise the money at the fair.

"One 4-H member would lead and one would spot," said Nichols. "They would take turns."

For some 4-H'ers, it was a challenge to get the animals adjusted to the show ring, between the tractor pulls and the rides, in the area used to show beef. Some of the ponies had to be led around the ring about 40 times, in all, before they finally settled down, said Nichols.

The rides were conducted from 5 p.m.-8:30 p.m. each night. The group plans to do the same again next year.

A benefit of the 4-H riding at Elizabethtown includes learning to work with a group toward a common goal. This helps further the directives of 4-H: to teach members to work together and to learn the benefits of cooperation, how to set goals, how to learn more about working with the public, and the rewards of working with horses.

This was the group's second year at the fairgrounds.

"It was an easy way to raise funds," said Nichols. "We had done trash pickup at the fair before, but the kids enjoyed this a lot more."

And not only do the 4-H'ers learn to work as a group, but the time spent helps them earn the coveted Saddle Cinches 4-H supersilk jacket, for which many are proud to wear at the shows.

At this year's Elizabethtown Fair in late August, members of the Lancaster County-based Saddle Cinches 4-H Horse Club raised more than $880 to benefit various charities throughout the state. ANSWER — Thanks to Mildred K. Vorndran of Webster, New York, for this tried-and-true recipe for cucumber relish. She also mixes a small amount of it with mayonnaise to make tartar sauce.

Cucumber Relish

12 unpeeled cucumbers (not too large)
3 red peppers
3 green peppers
12 large onions

Coarsely chop ingredients. Sprinkle with ½ cup salt. Let stand overnight. Drain and discard juice. Add

1½ quarts vinegar
5 cups sugar
½ ounce (1 tablespoon) celery seed
½ ounce (1 tablespoon) mustard seed

Let come to a boil. Then make the following paste:

heaping ½ cup flour
3 teaspoons dry mustard
1 teaspoon turmeric
½ cup vinegar

Add hot mixture to paste. Cook together until well-blended. Can into jars. Yields 10 pints. Mildred puts the jars in a hot water bath and cooks for 10-12 minutes to seal.

ANSWER — This is the season for soybeans. Ida Keeny, New Freedom, sent these instructions for shelling edible soybeans. She writes that this method goes fast and is a pleasant job. For those who have trouble finding seeds, ask a garden supply store to order them for you.

To shell soybeans, wait until most of the beans are filled out but not yellow. Pull by the stalks, take them to a shady place, sit down and pull off the pods.

Blanch in a small amount of water, in the pressure cooker, just bring it up to 15 pounds pressure, take off and run cold water on them until pressure is down. Or, you can boil them in a kettle for 5 minutes. Drain the beans and put into a shallow cake pans. As soon as cool enough to handle, squeeze out the beans into a bowl of ice water. Drain and they are ready to freeze.

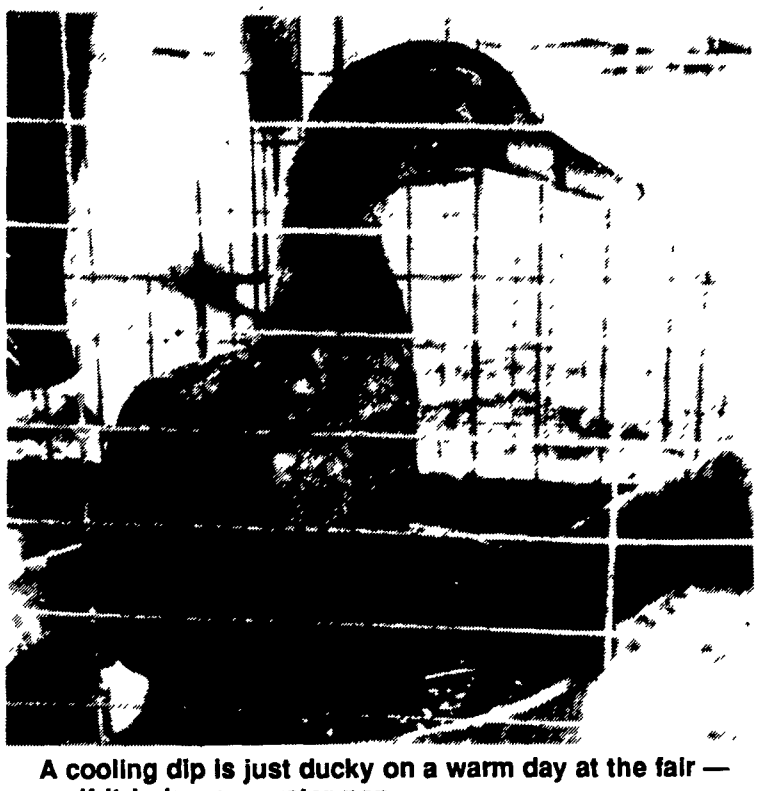
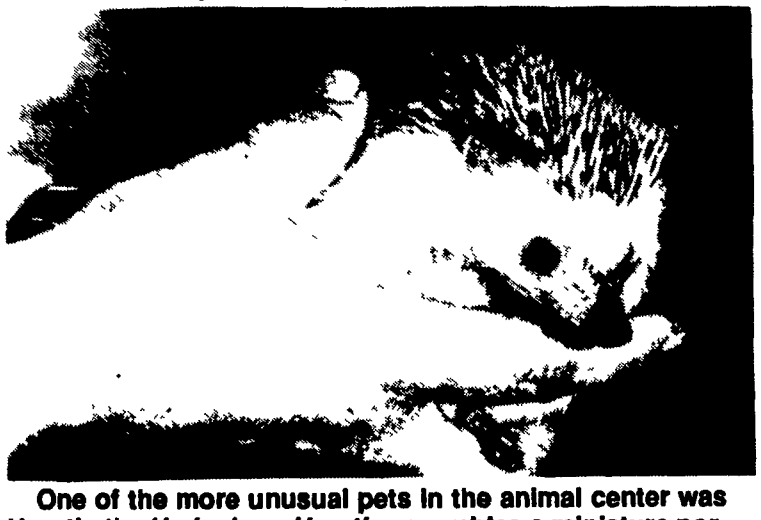
Petting Zoo Attracts Children At York Fair

Lydia Eddinger offers a snack to the curious, two-month-old emu chicks.



A cooling dip is just ducky on a warm day at the fair — even if it is in your water pan.



One of the more unusual pets in the animal center was Horatio the Hedgehog. Horatio resembles a miniature porcupine, without the dangerous quills.

JOYCE BUPP

YORK (York Co.) — All the kids, two-legged and four-legged, seemed to have a good time in the 4-H Farm Animal Learning Center at the York Fair.

A large tent near the fair's animal barns is the home for the Center, filled with a lots of friendly, tame animals. Some, like the kittens, puppies and guinea pigs, can be held and cuddled by visitors.

Other animals, because they are large, are kept in pens where they can be watched and petted. One of the biggest is Lady Jane, the friendly donkey. The baby calves and kid goats enjoy being petted, and, like all the pets in the Animal Center, get some quiet time to curl up for a nap. Their favorite time is when caretaker Mary Jo Kraft fixes bottles of milk for the calves and kid goats to drink.

Some of the animals are more comfortable just being looked at than they are being held, so they have their own cages at the Center. In their large cages, ducks have wide, round pans of water for drinking — or for splashing in. Rabbits and chickens, in different sizes and colors, are also part of the Center's farm animal family.

A few of the animals are somewhat unusual. Horatio, the hedgehog, looks like a very small porcupine. When he relaxes, Horatio's spiny coat lays down and feels rather smooth to touch. Also unusual at this year's Center was the pair of emu chicks. Though only two months old, the baby emus stood nearly three feet tall. Because these young birds are very curious, some of the smaller visitors to the Center were a little frightened by the emu chicks.

When the fair was over, all the animals returned home to their jobs as pets for members of the York County 4-H clubs.

Lady Jane, the gentle donkey, gets a kiss from Mary Jo Kraft, caretaker for the 4-H Animal Education Center.

Kids — the baby goat kind — were eager to be fed their bottles by visitors to the York Fair animal awareness display organized by the 4-H program.

For Snook, Standability's Most Important Factor

CAROLYN N. MOYER
Bradford Co. Correspondent

JERSEY SHORE (Lycoming Co.) — Some people say it's the rich river bottom soils that allow Ed Snook to take home the first-place ribbons in the Pennsylvania Corn Club's annual production contest. But according to the long-time corn grower and hog farmer, there are many factors that contribute to bumper corn crops.

"In the Five Acre Corn Club, I don't enter the same fields every year. I've had them in the Nippenose Valley on limestone ground and along the river. It's always pushed up to me that I have pig manure and river field, but we've had the Five Year Corn Club in seven or eight locations and we've won awards on all of them," he said.

In this year's contest, Snook placed first in the three-year average shelled grain class for the regular harvest size. His yield in 1992 was 191.8 bushels per acre. In 1993 he produced 201.6 bushels per acre and in 1994 he produced 194.1 bushels per acre for an average

Corn A Year-Round Business At Wolf Farms

JOYCE BUPP
York Co.
Correspondent

STEWARTSTOWN (York Co.)—Piles of icy snow still linger along the edges of the rolling fields at Wolf Farms, west of Stewartstown.

But inside the farm's offices, Dan Wolf contemplates the neon-green commodity price charts scrolling across a satellite monitor and makes plans for planting corn.

Corn is king at this southern York County crop farm, where Dan Wolf and his brothers Dave and Steve crop 1,000 acres of the golden grain crop along with additional acreage in soybeans, wheat, timothy, and popcorn.

Wolf, a quiet, well-spoken farmer who studies his business intently, is one of the newest directors of the Pennsylvania Master Corn Growers Association (PMCGA).

Familiar to many corn producers from the statewide corn yield contest PMCGA also works closely with Penn State in education and research work toward improved yields and cropping practices.

"The association helps to promote corn through education and advertising," Dan said, adding that the PMCGA's efforts are closely related to the programs and efforts of the National Corn Growers Association. "We also work toward enlightening and educating elected officials in the best interests of corn growers."

Promoting new products made from corn is another focus of the corn growers' association. Ethanol, an alternative fuel made from corn, continues to grow in volume of usage across the country. Tax benefits granted for ethanol development were a result of the ongoing efforts of the corn growers' associations, Wolf noted.

Two generations at Wolf Farms attend to business on the family grain operation. From left are brothers Dave and Dan Wolf and Dan's son, Justin. Absent from the photo because he was in the shop getting equipment ready was the third Wolf brother and partner, Steve.

Tender Meat Is Blasted With Experimental Machine

RAPID CITY, S.D. — What do a USDA meat scientist and a former CIA weapons specialist have in common? They both like their steaks tender.

That's why they've teamed up to develop a machine that uses explosions to instantly tenderize meat without blowing it to bits.

The machine was the idea of John Long, an inventor who is a retired weapons specialist with the CIA. "John knew about explosives and came to us to help refine the idea because we have the expertise in meats," says Morse Solomon, a USDA meat researcher.

The machine, officially known as the "hydrodyne," is a large steel kettle filled with water, explains Solomon. Meat is lowered to the bottom of the kettle and an explosion is set off in the water, sending a shockwave through the liquid and the meat.

"Meat is at least 75 percent water and that's why this process works so well," Solomon says. "That shock wave carries on through the meat and ruptures proteins and other components that are in its way." The rounded bottom of the hydrodyne reflects the wave back toward the meat, giving it a double dose of the tenderizing process.

Solomon explained the machine to researchers and others gathered for the national meeting of the American Society of Animal Science in Rapid City, July 23-26.

Finding ways to tenderize meat is not a new effort for the meat industry, Solomon says. "Studies over the years have continued to identify tenderness as the largest concern in the industry," he says. "A good cook can overcome most other problems, but not toughness."

That's why many meat processors use enzymes to tenderize meat. "But that process takes time and the results are often inconsistent," Solomon says. "The advantage of the hydrodyne is that it is instantaneous and predictable. It gives the same results time after time, no matter how tough the meat is."

The amount of explosive is carefully calculated so that it doesn't turn the meat to mush. The shockwave generates a force of about 20,000 pounds per square inch within the meat. "That's the force of five tons on an area about the size of your thumbnail," Solomon says.

A heavy cover on but not sealed to the kettle contains the blast and resulting splash. It also vents any gasses from the explosive. "We use a two-part explosive and both parts are very stable. In fact it takes quite a bit to get them to detonate when they are together," Solomon says. "That should minimize any safety concerns that meat processors might have."

Solomon says the machine has been patented and commercial interest is high. The prototype machine could tenderize between 600 and 800 pounds of boneless beef at a time. The size could be adjusted, Solomon says. And additional research could lead to applicants for meat with bones and entire carcasses.

"We see most meat processors using this as one more batch production that they'll use in their plant," Solomon says. "Also the projected price of this equipment seems to be well within what processors would be willing to pay."

Farm Women Societies

Berks Society 1

Berks County Society of Farm Women Group I met for its September meeting at the Oley home of Ella Richard. Lieutenant Beth Robinson, a native of Asbury Park, New Jersey and recently appointed to serve with the Salvation Army in Boyertown, was speaker of the evening. She presented a most interesting history of the Salvation Army and explained how the Boyertown Corps will function in the future. She also disclosed a bit of her personal history; growing up, becoming a bookkeeper, and eventually entering a seminary.

The business meeting followed with President Evelyn Heacock presiding. Seventeen members and a visitor, Eva Siegfried, attended the meeting.

Plans were made to attend the annual Berks County Farm Women Convention on October 5, which will be held at the Berks County Agricultural Center, Leesport.

The next meeting will be a dinner meeting, to be held on October 9, at 6:30 p.m. at the Pleasantville Park Diner, Oley. At that time, the group will also celebrate Pennsylvania Farm Women Day.

ANSWER — Leona Spangler, P.O. Box 41, Spring Mills, PA 16875-9419, wanted to buy a copy of "Searchlight" cookbook and a Rumford cookbook, which were printed between 1930-1940. She was looking for other cookbooks from that era also. A faithful Pa. reader writes to say that if Leona is looking for an antique copy of Searchlight, then she cannot help. But if she is looking for a reprint, she can call Copper Family Bookstore, 1-800-678-5779, to order it for $5 plus $2.50 shipping and handling. Their address is 1503 SW 42nd St., Topeka, Kansas 66609.

ANSWER — J. Loren Yoder, Belleville, wanted information about milk bottles from Weaver's Dairy of Malvern; Spicklers Dairy of Elizabethtown, and Supplee-Sealtest Dairy Products. Paul Dowie, Chester Springs, writes that he would be happy to help as he has a collection that he no longer needs. Call 610-827-7561 between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. or leave a message.

ANSWER — L. Horning, Lebanon, would like to know where she can purchase two-piece lids, smaller than regular size, 2¼ -inches wide, that Ball used to make. Thanks to Howard Weiss who has some to sell. Write to him at R.2, Box 356 A, Myerstown, PA 17067.

ANSWER — Sharon Rehm, 1213 Orchard Rd. Lititz, PA 17543, wanted sources for wooden puzzles, manipulative toys and peg boards to help her developmentally delayed son. Norma Jean Miller of Spring Mills, Pa., says she can call toll free 1-800-833-3389, to Teaching Resource Center and request a catalog. She might also contact her local school district or intermediate unit for additional materials or catalogs from which to order. She adds that Teaching Resource Center is an excellent source.

ANSWER — A faithful Maryland reader wrote that her family is desperate to get rid of cockroaches in the house. Thanks to Edgar Jackson of Ligonier, Pa., who says spray cans of insecticide only kill on contact. The long-term kill is boric acid powder put out where they travel. You also have to get rid of their water and food supply. The boric acid should last indefinitely, and in one month's time the roaches should be gone.

Another reader writes that she got roaches by a sack of clothes brought to her house. They multiplied, and she tried most everything, including sprinkling the Borax, but she never did figure out how to get them to line up and walk across the Borax or any other strips. In desperation they went to the hardware store and bought 6 cans of roach spray that you can lock to "on" and leave the room, and they keep on spraying until they're empty. The writer says the roaches were confined to the kitchen, so they shut every door and put an old blanket over the archway, turned on the cans of spray and went to bed. In the morning she was dumbfounded to see the floor practically covered with dead roaches. She swept them up and hasn't seen another one to this day and that was 15 years ago.

Another reader wrote that she should purchase Zodiac Flea Foggers from her local pet shop. She cautions that you should leave the house for a couple of hours. Also open closet doors and cupboards. More than one treatment will be necessary.

Giant Pumpkin Sets York Fair Record

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

YORK (York Co.) — Questions, questions, questions.

Walter Keeney, livestock superintendent for the York Fair, is accustomed to spending his stint at the fair answering all sorts of them. Visitors ask questions about the animals. Exhibitors ask questions about housing and placings. Fair staffers quiz him for help in solving various problems.

But this year, Keeney spent a bulk of his fair time answering questions about pumpkins.

His pumpkin-growing expertise was quizzed repeatedly by friends and strangers when they learned that Keeney had grown the largest pumpkin ever exhibited at the York Fair. His whopper, winning pumpkin weighed in at 464 pounds.

Actually, Keeney was aiming at a 500-pounder. But this week's cool and rainy summer weather, he laments, was not very favorable toward peak pumpkin production.

The fair's Giant Pumpkin Contest has become a major horticulture attraction since it was first initiated a few years ago. Sponsored by Brown's Retail Market at Loganville, the top three winners in the contest each receive one dollar per pound for their huge, pie-potential specimens.

Last year's winning pumpkin grower, Ellsworth Lehman Jr., Wrightsville, snagged the second and third place spots this year with his 384-pound and 371-pound entries. Keeney came in at fourth place with his "smaller" entry, a mere 365 pounds, but out of the prize money.

Prize-winning pumpkin growers take the Giant Pumpkin Contest seriously. To get such mammoths, a gardener has to do a bit more than just toss a few seeds in the ground.

Most start with seeds that are offspring of other large, sometimes prizewinning, pumpkins. One of the more well-known types of seed for growing very large pumpkins is called Atlantic Giants. It is available from some garden centers and mail-order seed catalogs. Other growers have their own, private seed sources.

The period of frost-free days in southcentral Pennsylvania does not usually provide sufficient time to grow pumpkin giants outside from seed. So, Keeney, like most pumpkin competitors, started his seeds inside. He says that last year he did not get his pumpkins in the ground soon enough and his largest only weighed 195 pounds.

Keeney's seedlings were set our earlier this year and protected with plastic enclosures until the weather warmed. Even with the extra care he gave them, Keeney lost several large pumpking during the season, when their stems rotted from the excessive moisture.

To move the huge pumpkin to the fair, Keeney maneuvered it onto a piece of plywood. Even then, it required about a half-dozen people to move it.

Pumpkin afficionados who gathered about the dozen or so giants entered in the contest, which were displayed at a special site in the poultry center, traded tips and myths about pumpkin growing.

Some put their faith in manure, fertilizer or feeding with milk. Some use special soil mixes, or growing containers. Some pumpkin producers reportedly rented hives for pollination, since thousands of area bee colonies died last winter due to weather and disease.

Keeney had no immediate plans for his giant pumpkin, other than to wiggle it back on his piece of plywood in order to get it back onto the truck and hauled home when the fair ended.

As for next year, Keeney is already planning his strategy to maybe reach that 500-pound mark.

And, no. He isn't telling how.

Walt Keeney didn't quite reach his pumpkin-growing goal of a 500-pounder with the summer's cool and rainy weather. But his Giant Pumpkin Contest winner did tip the scales at 465 pounds — and set a new York Fair pumpkin record.

Learn About Goats, Meet People Are Youth's Goals

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — Christine Michalik's two big goals:

• Goal Number 1: Learn more about goat genetics to improve the herd.

• Goal Number 2: Meet people and have fun.

Lately, Pennsylvania's dairy goat youth representative has been doing both. While making plans to attend college to study veterinary medicine, she was at the Reading Fair on Monday to goat producers, learning about the industry and handing out ribbons at the goat show.

Christine, 17, daughter of Richard and Cynthia Michalik of Sellersville in Montgomery County, raises a wide variety of animals on her farm, including 30 dairy goats, some Jerseys, hogs, and one market steer.

While making plans to attend college to study veterinary medicine, Christine Michalik, Pennsylvania's dairy goat youth representative, was at the Reading Fair on Monday speaking to goat producers, learning about the industry, and handing out ribbons at the goat show.

A senior at Penn Ridge High School in Perkasie, Christine has been learning about goats and showing them in competition for the past seven years. She cares for 30 of them, including Alpines, LaManchas, and Nubians, and has spent time at the state goat show in June.

At the goat show, held in Lockhaven during Father's Day Weekend in June where she was appointed goat representative, Christine learned a great deal about the goat business and about her responsibilities as a youth representative (NOT a dairy princess).

"I have to perform community service, attend day camps, travel to nursing homes, and of course do shows," she said.

Christine also attended Penn State's Ag Progress Days in Rockspring in August to promote the goat industry.

"I talk about the industry with the public, educate them, and tell them facts — as compared to some of the myths about the industry," Christine said.

This is Christine's 7th year in 4-H.

She is building on her experiences and her garnering of dairy goat knowledge to help further a career, possibility in veterinary medicine, she said. But the fun parts come first.

"I enjoy meeting people and getting to travel and attend day camps," she said. Christine enjoyed the Montgomery County 4-H Animal Science Day Camp that was held at the 4-H Center in Creamery in July.

Whatever field of veterinary science that is presented to her, she said she intends to work with goats as much as possible.

"The most fascinating thing about goats is genetics — looking at pedigrees and combining them, seeing what types of genes work when and where," she said.

"But a major goal is to work on upgrading my own herd using genetics."

Ideally, she noted, she wants to increase the quality of the herd genetics while keeping about 10 milkers, for a total of 25 goats.

This year, other responsibilities includes the Farm Show. But she also helps tutor sixth graders at a local elementary school in a variety of topics and is also active with the high school's Adopt A Highway Program.

Different Show, Same Alpine Wins Reading Goat Championship

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

READING (Berks Co.) — Vicki Lynn, a 6-year-old Alpine, won best doe in show on Monday afternoon at the Reading Fair.

The Alpine was shown by Joan Stump, Telford, who also won best doe last year at the Reading Fair Goat Show.

GCH Little Orchard x Vicki Lynn was the 13th time the doe won best in show, according to Stump. This is the fifth championship for Stump at Reading.

Stump said, "We always say that it is 25 percent genetics, 75 percent management that makes champions." However, even with the best bred animal, she noted, "lousy management is not going to get you anywhere."

The Stump herd is bred for better genetics, and she specializes in show animals.

Judge for the show was Dawn Camp, Welcome, Md., American Dairy Goat Association judge. Camp has worked on her own 350-head commercial dairy goat operation and has owned most

Former Dairy Princesses Return To Celebrate

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — At the 40th anniversary of the Pennsylvania Dairy Princess and Promotion Services, Inc. (PDPPS) held at the Sheraton Inn-East in Harrisburg last Saturday, many former state dairy princesses gathered to celebrate the program's accomplishments and to crown a new state dairy princess.

Susan Coskery Taylor, the first person selected to promote the dairy industry in 1956 was there. Now 61 years old and living in Michigan, Susan fondly recalled the pride in representing the industry. Instead of dairy princess, she was called Miss Milk Maid.

Beverly Robinson Minor, who was also called Miss Milk Maid reigned in 1959. She never left dairy promotion. She went on to marry a farmer and operate a 450-acre dairy farm and dairy store. She also is a board member of PDPPS.

"The dairy princess program made a great impact on my life. I was blessed to be involved," she said.

Rose Winkelbauer Hoffman was from Erie County but represented three countries and went on to win the state crown in 1972. She now teaches high school English, where she pushes milk drinking instead of beer to her students. Married and the mother of two girls, Rose said that she also pushes lots of milk dring on her kids.

"I was a shy teen-ager. Becoming a dairy princess made me more comfortable with speaking," she said.

Debra Miller Brubaker reigned in 1974. She now milks 150 Holsteins. She and her husband Lowell and four children live in Lancaster County and continue to push milk promotion and drink lots of milk.

Peggy Staub Morehart reigned in 1976. She is a nurse in Williamsport and for 10 years headed the Lycoming County pageant. She said, "Being the state dairy princess was a wonderful honor from the Creator."

Eileen Shull Mitchell reigned in 1979. She is now married and a full-time mom of four children. She teaches Body and Soul aerobic classes and sings solos for her church.

Cindy Neeley Wimer's reign began in 1980, but she never left the dairy industry. She and her husband raise Solid Gold Holsteins. Cindy is also a communication specialist for Dairy Council Mid East.

Charlene Rohrer Ranck reigned in 1981. She and her husband Merle have three sons, but Charlene considers she also has 29 daughters because she is a board member of PDPPS.

Lynette Loper Pietkiewicz reigned in 1984. Now married and a registered nurse, Lynette said, "I've always been proud of my father's profession whether I was active or not in it."

Beth Heath Moore who reigned in 1985 also remained active in the dairy industry. She had worked for PDPPS and now works for Monsanto.

Pamela Kendig reigned in 1986. Now married and in physical health, she said that the skills in public relations that she had gained as dairy princess have been valuable to ever since.

Rebecca Sonnen Bube reigned in 1987. She is now married and program director for Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Association. She said, "I admire dairy farmers and I'm proud to be a part of the industry."

Robin Wilbur Huizinga reigned in 1991. Now married, she works at Cornell University but keeps in touch with the industry through her mother who is assistant director of PDPPS.

Jennifer Grimes from Berks County reigned in 1993. Now in college, she said, "My love for the industry has not lessened."

From its small beginnings in 1956 when the Miss Milk Maid contest was initiated by the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers until the present, the purpose of the program is to sell more milk products.

PDPPS is the only dairy promotion organization in the state that concentrates on the personal touch by using county dairy princesses, alternates, ambassadors, and dairy darlings to hand out samples, recipes, and information to individuals at fairs and special events.

According to Jan Harding, director of PDPPS, these dairy spokespeople contacted 953,418 people last year.

The dairy princess program is supported and funded by Pennsylvania dairy farmers through the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council, Inc., Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Association, American Dairy Association & Dairy Council, Mid East, Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program, Allied Milk Producers, and independent contributors.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

Early in the summer my daughter gave me a book which described a journey taken in 1743 by three men to Onondaga, New York. They left Philadelphia, with Conrad Weiser as interpreter, on a mission to meet the Iroquois and settle a dispute that began in Virginia.

One man was John Bartram, who was a botanist, and who wrote a detailed journal of the summer journey of 1743. He wrote of the kinds of trees and plants and explained the lay of the land. Some interesting notes included the Indians' lifestyle. He concluded that they were good and bad the same as everyone else. Some drank too much and were lazy while others were very generous.

The second man was Lewis Evans, a surveyor, who was interested in making a map of the interior as they traveled to New York state. He published a map in 1749 and showed their route from the Blue Mountains.

Weiser, who was adopted by the Mohawks, worked unceasingly to keep peace. He succeeded in keeping the Six Nations from starting a war and this trip in 1743 led to a treaty in Lancaster, Pennsylvania in 1744. The trip by horseback and canoe took 16 days from Onondaga to Philadelphia. They hired Indian guides to take them to Oswego on Lake Ontario where fur traders gathered. The town had 70 log houses or trading huts.

In June of 1744 Indians camped around the town of Lancaster and met in the courthouse with the Governors of Pa., Md., and Va. The council lasted two weeks and resulted in important adjustments of claims.

It certainly was a different time! Although, all of my ancestors already had settled in Lancaster County as they fled from Germany and Switzerland.

Fall Fest Craft Show

The 6th annual Fall Fest Arts and Crafts Show will be held Saturday, October 5, at Indian Echo Caverns, Hummelstown. Approximately 75 artisans will display their crafts including stained glass, woodcrafts, stitchery, jewelry, and wrought iron pieces. Local civic organizations and school groups will provide a tasty bill of fare. Cavern attractions including Gem Mill Junction, Carriage Rides, Circle "L" Ranch and Cavern Tours will add to visitors' enjoyment.

Fall Fest will be held rain or shine. Show hours are 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Admission is free with ample parking. For further information, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Fall Fest, One Fox Chase Circle, Harrisburg, PA 17111.

Making Children His Priority

Cutris Dietrich, a father of two in northern Lehigh County, says that one of his principles for fathering is to remember to prioritize. Dietrich has two daughters, one five and one who will turn eight next month.

When asked how he carves out time in his schedule for his kids, he remarked, "You simply have to protect that time. Sometimes you have to sayh, 'I'm not available.'" That kind of commitment takes indvidual strength when multiple people are demanding a person's time and attention.

Whether it's crops that need to be harvested, bills that need to be paid, a report that needs to be filed, or a committee meeting that needs to be led, a father still needs to reserve time for his children. Sadly, national time studies record that fathers spend on average 26 minutes a day engaged in direct interactions with their preschoolers. This figure drops to 16 minutes per day with children six years and older.

It is clear that Dietrich and his family are not average. In addition to the daily bedtime reading that he shares with his daughters "even when I'm tired," this dad spends time bike riding, visiting a nearby park, and attending soccer matches. "Because we don't feel safe yet having our older daughter ride on the country roads, and the lanes on our property are pretty bumpy, we'll take bikes to Leaser Lake and spekd time togehter there."

And time with dad is not just outdoor athletics! These daughters love to bake with dad, too. "It's just a box cake, but we can do it together." Dietrich goes on to describe how one child puts in the oil, another the eggs, and they all take turns stirring. This is a project that they've undertaken together many times over the past years. It's the kind of activity they request when mom is out on a paramedic call.

One of Dietrich's favorite times this past summer occurred late at night on the 4th of July. His wife was working, and he drove the kids in the pick-up truck up to the top of one of their fields to watch a distant fireworks show. "That was a treasured moment." The kids were excited, but also a bit nervious because it was so dark (who knows what wild creatures might surprise them!). But dad was able to provide a really special, safe father-daughter time that evening.

Although he has done lots of things that he's pleased with, Dietrich regrets not being more strict with his children's TV viewing. "My wife and I weren't always as attentive to screening the television shows as we should have been. We made the mistake of assuming that if they were tuned to a 'children's channel' that the content would be appropriate. That's not always the case. Sometimes the themes aren't respectful of adults, especially teachers. At other times, the content is simply too adult in nature."

What he and his wife have done well is to build routines into their lives. Children thrive and feel secure when their lives are predictable. Dietrich and his wife have coached their kids to lay out clothing, fill back packs, and pack lunches the night before a school day. "This cuts down on arguments, hassles, and surprises in the morning when our time schedule is really tight," comments Dietrich. He laughs and says, "This builds responsibility in the girls. In fact, sometimes, they're more responsible than I am." They always cap the night off by reading together.

Dads, in their words and actions, serve as vital role models to their kids. Dietrich's laughter, his willingness to prioritize his time, and his commitment to staying involved in their lives will be memories that will stay with his daughters and will influence the way they think and behave as they grow. "I want them to learn from me the importance of enjoying life, of smiling, and getting along with others. I want them to know that it's important to work problems out and not to run from them. So many kids don't see that." Dietrich feels it is especially important for his children to see and experience how people work through difficulties in relationships whether it's between children and parents or between husbands and wives. "Whatever you hope for your children, you need to model it at home."

Mitch Golant, author of "Finding Time For Fathering," agrees with Dietrich. Golant writes, "Most likely you will have several jobs or careers during your lifetime. Yet fathering is perhaps the only 'career' that endures. It is an essential part of your life as a man... After all, if you make, save, and spend time for fathering, you are investing in your relationships and can only reap the dividend of an enriched and loving family as your children grow older."

MOO KOOLER™

Breaking new ground

PITTSBURGH — Clanging cow bells, Moo Kooler™, TV and radio coverage and professional and amateur bicyclers were all part of the action when the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program Board sponsored the 10th annual Tour de 'Toona bicycle race in Altoona recently.

The five-day event is the largest pro/am bicycle race in the U.S. The American Dairy Association & Dairy Council Mid East coordinated the sponsorship on behalf of the PDPP Board.

PDPP sponsored the "King of the Mountain" portion of the race. PDPP board member Ray Diebold of Altoona, Blair County, presented a "got milk?" jersey and milk toast to the winner, the current U.S. National Cycling Champion. More than 800 racers took part in the event, including an Olympic silver medalist from Canada.

The event attracted extensive media coverage on both local and national levels. To capitalize on the media exposure at Tour de 'toona, "got milk?" banners lined the race course each day reminding spectators and TV audiences to enjoy milk. ADADC Mid East also secured radio and TV interviews which emphasized the dairy involvement in the race.

State Dairy Princess Rhonda Kieklak, along with other local area princesses and dairy maids, added to the excitement as they distributed "got milk?" cow bells to race fans. Spectators rang the bells and cheered on the racers as they tackled the most challenging section of the course. During the wire-to-wire radio coverage of the race, radio personalities rang the "got milk?" cow bells and made numerous mentions of milk and the PDPP sponsorship.

The PDPP Board's involvement in Tour de 'Toona extended beyond the race itself. Racers and VIPs enjoyed Moo Kooler™, a line of 2% flavored milk designed to make milk "kooler" for kids.

Racers, as well as more than 30,000 fans who followed the five-day event, showed tremendous appreciation for the dairy industry's participation. "This crowd wants milk to be associated with bicycle racing because they are health-conscious athletes who are trying to promote the sport to children as well as adults," said Brian Ross, PDPP program manager.

IN THE VILLAGE OF KELLERSVILLE
BETWEEN SNYDERSVILLE AND SCIOTA
HAMILTON TOWNSHIP, MONROE COUNTY, PA
5 MILES WEST OF STROUDSBURG, PA

An old country mansion property. To see is to believe - home of the late Chester H. Rhodes, one time President Judge of the Pennsylvania Superior court. Large old stone house was built in 1830 by John Keller, Justice of the Peace and Cavalry Officer. Stately setting with huge trees and spacious lawns. The farm has over 7,000 feet of road frontage on Rt. 209, Keller Drive and Bush Land, over 3,000 feet of frontage on McMichaels Creek a pristine trout stream. A country estate in a nice area with field, stream and woods. The large old stone house is sturdy and solid but needs restoration, renovation, remodeling and redecorating; lots of fireplaces, big rooms, good roof, thick walls, open staircase, high ceilings, a huge modern horse barn and arena, lots of fences, training rings, horse pens, corrals, pasture land; also brick caretakers house and outbuildings.

TERMS: Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000) in CASH or BANKS CASHIER CHECK (PAYABLE TO YOST & MUEHLHAN) the moment the property is struck down. Balance within 75 days. Will be sold to high bidder regardless of price.

FFA Student Leaders Meet In Capitol

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Watching the 102 state FFA officers here recently move around the nation's capital was a bit like watching a domestic version of the Olympic parade of nations.

While they proudly represented the individual states whose names were embroidered on the backs of their blue corduroy jackets, they were united by a common goal: to strengthen agricultural education and FFA in the next year and beyond.

The group, representing each state, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, attended the State Presidents' Conference to prepare for their responsibilities as delegates and committee chairs for the 69th National FFA Convention, to be held in Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 14-16.

During the six-day conference, which began July 22, state officers attended workshops, met with government leaders to discuss the importance of FFA and agricultural education, visited national landmarks and spent time at the National FFA Center in Alexandria, Va. The conference exemplifies the FFA's emphasis on student leadership. The team of six national FFA officers plan and conduct the event for state officers, who in turn train local chapter officers. Most officers are 18 to 21 years old.

Sen. Larry Craig (R-Idaho), a former state FFA officer, thanked FFA for providing him a solid base of leadership and personal skills. "Congratulations on your accomplishments," he told the group at the opening banquet. "I challenge you to achive even greater heights."

Later in the week, the students met with Secretary of Education Richard Riley, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Richard Rominger, and Rep. Charles Stenholm (D-Texas). They attended a Congressional breakfast, visited the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Education, met with their individual congressional leaders and received a briefing from representatives of the Clinton Administration.

Kent County Posts Horse Show Results

TOLCHESTER, Md. — The Kent County Fair held its annual horse show recently here at the Ag Center.

The show was organized by the Silver Stirrups 4-H Club. There were 68 riders competing in 41 classes and 11 divisions.

More than $2,200 worth of prizes were awarded. The judge for the day was Bryan Bradley, coach of the University of Delaware Equestrian Team.

Jr. Grooming & Showmanship: 1. Jessica Horan, 2. Lauren Stahl, 3. Jessica Garlic.

BELARUS VALUE. IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE.

Introducing two big changes in how small jobs get done The 8011L and 9011L offer a low clearance design and tight turning radius that provide even higher levels of maneuverability Yet they still manage to offer the same durability, value and affordability you expect from Belarus

Choose from the 8011L and its tough 81 hp four cylinder water cooled engine or the 9011Ls turbo charged 98 hp Both engines have strong torque characteristics Add it all up and you ve got utility tractors ideal for every type of operation from orchards and vineyards to poultry operations and grounds maintenance

But the exceptional value doesn t stop there The 8011L and 9011L offer excellent lift capacity for front end loader applications Other impressive features include power assisted steering and a fully adjustable seat for operator comfort and convenience

Combined with their ease of maintenance and servicing it s not hard to see how Belarus makes even the smallest jobs easier in a big way That s Belarus value

COMPACTION COMMANDERS
NO-TILL RIPPER/DEEP RIPPER
DESIGNED FOR YOUR CONSERVATION NEEDS

3-5-7 Shank

CCD 500

Brillion introduces their new Compaction Commander.. designed to break up hardpan and compaction as deep as 20". The standard V-shaped alloy point and wear strip leaves residue on the surface with minimal soil disturbance. Auto-rest shanks with 20" of trip height allows for non-stop tillage. Parabolic shanks lift and fracture the soil. 39" of underframe clearance assures trouble free operation even in heavy residue.

BRILLION THREE SHANK DEEP TILL has a Category II hitch. With a cutting width of 7'6", it is ideal for operators with smaller acreages and horsepower. It is extremely maneuverable, yet provides the same basic deep tilling job as its "big brother." Available with coulters.

Ludlum Is Limousin Ambassador

Kelli Ludlum of Uniontown, Kan. serves as 1996 ambassador for the Limousin breed.

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. — If you have a questions about Limousin cattle, just ask 1996 Limousin Ambassador Kelli Ludlum of Uniontown, Kan.

As ambassador, 19-year-old Kelli has spent the summer interning in the offices of the North American Limousin Foundation (NALF), working with junior activities and communications.

"Kelli has been an asset to work with, and we are very proud to have her representing the Limousin breed," said George Hubbard, director of marketing, shows and junior activities for NALF.

Among her accomplishments as Ambassador, Kelli has developed and is working with a new internship program for junior Limousin members. Limousin Advance: Next-Step Experience will form partnerships between Limousin breeders and youth for summer work experiences.

In addition to working with the program, Kelli will represent NALF and the Limousin breed at various functions throughout the next year including the National FFA Convention and National Cattlemen's Beef Association Convention.

Kellie and her family have been using Limousin genetics in their crossbreeding program for 20 years. Along with her commercial cattle experience, Kelli has a small herd of registered Limousin cattle and has shown Limousin heifers and Limousin-cross club calves for many years.

A Presidential and National Merit Scholar at Kansas State University, Kelli is pursuing a double major in agricultural education and animal science and industry. She is involved in Block and Bridle, Silver Key Sophomore Honorary, Ag Ambassadors, and the Student Alumni Board.

York Fair Names Junior Dairy Show Winners

JOYCE BUPP

YORK (York Co.) — A junior two-year-old Holstein edged out the Brown Swiss champion to get the nod for Supreme Champion of the York Fair's junior dairy show.

"Beshore Adan Juniper-ET," exhibited by 13-year-old Angie Beshore, New Cumberland, gained an advantage due to being "tremendously dairy and open ribbed." She is scored VG-85 and still milking 80 pounds after her March freshening.

The judging team of John Burket and Steve Shaw, who placed the youth dairy classes and paired for the Supreme selection, indicated that their top two selections were very close.

"This is a good pair of milking two-year-olds. If ever there was a tie for Supreme, this is it," said Shaw, speaking for the judging duo.

The Brown Swiss champion is "Wind Mill Hammer Colleen," a senior two-year-old exhibited by Nathan Hostetter, Dover. Though fresh since January and soon due to be turned dry, Colleen is still milking at 70 pounds.

Other breed champions in contention for the Supreme title were "Goodies Ann Corben Alice," the four-year-old Ayrshire winner exhibited by Jess Stambaugh, East Berlin, "Brightside PP Mavis," Doyle Hostetter's junior two-year-old Guernsey, the Jersey junior calf, "Hill Acres Shellys Sherry," exhibited by Suzann Pomraning, Delta, and "Joy-el Erica," a senior two-year-old Milking Shorthorn exhibited by Heather Crowl, Airville.

In the Ayrshire breed show, Nevin Hostetter, Dover took reserve senior and grand champion with a senior two-year-old "AK Patriot Jellybean."

Reserve senior and grand champion Brown Swiss was "IE Brothers-Three Belle," Heather Crowl's senior two-year-old. Airville 4-H'er Lisa Jones claimed the junior champion honor with "Brothers Three Jetway Lily," a fall calf, over the reserve winter yearling, "Muddy Run Aytola Sidney," exhibited by Kelly Jo Myers.

Guernsey reserve senior and grand champion was Doyle Hostetter's senior two-year-old "Brightside N Andrea." Topping the heifer placings were the junior champion "Rutter Bros Magics Wendy," a winter calf, and "Rutter Bros Perfectos Lydia," a winter yearling, both exhibited by Terri Johnson.

Jessica Hostetter nabbed two top spots in the Milking Shorthorn show, exhibiting her dry two-year-old, "Pinesedge Cav Jillian-Exp" to the reserve senior and grand spot, and taking the junior championship with her winter calf "J H Master Paige." Reserve junior champion was the fall calf exhibited by Sonni Lea Mayberry, Airville, "Joyel Master Snap."

More than 40 York County junior dairy exhibitors participated in the showmanship competition, finishing in a tight contest between the four age class winners which judges called a virtual tie. However, senior class winner Kelly Jo Myers, Thomasville, was selected the champion showman. Also in contention for the top showmanship prize were Amy Trimmer, East Berlin, age group 13-15, Susan Richardson, Fawn Grove, ages 10-12 and Terri Johnson, York, ages 8-9.

Thompson Family Takes York Dairy Supreme Title

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

In a repeat performance of last year's York Fair open dairy show, the Rodman Thompson family's Coredale Farm took top honors, winning the Supreme Champion title with their aged cow Holstein champion.

"Coredale Calypso Janis" is a VG-88 five-year-old with an Excellent-scored mammary system. She has completed her third lactation in the Thompson's East Berlin dairy herd with over 23,000 milk.

Open class dairy judges John Burket, East Freedom, and Steve Shaw, Williamsburg, teamed together to select the fair's overall winning cow from the field of breed champion contenders.

"She is quite an outstanding individual and could compete as tar in a large show as any animal here," noted Burket in announcing the Supreme selection. Earlier, while paying tribute to the top representatives from each breed, Shaw credited her with a very youthful mammary system and noted that "you just love this cow."

Chosen for the Reserve Supreme Champion honor, was "Rutter Bros Pro Kings Lemay," who reigned over the Guernsey breed show. The senior three-year-old is a veteran winner for her breeder and exhibitor, Rutter Bros, York. Judge Shaw praised her as a "tremendous cow," especially noting her angularity and sharpness.

Champions from the other four breeds of dairy animals completed an impressive line-up of York Fair Supreme contenders. Topping the Aryshire show was "Plum Bottom Matador's Kit," a senior three-year-old exhibited by the Shoemaker family's Fordville Farm, Thomasville. Shaw noted her overall type, good open rib and that she "tracks well on her legs."

Noted Jersey breeder and long-time fair exhibitor Mildred Seeds, Downingtown, again claimed the Jersey breed title, with her aged cow, "Top-O-Hill Admiral Theda J." The judges admired her high and wider udder and praised her breed character and grace in the showring.

Milking Shorthorn champion went to youth exhibitor Heather Crowl, Airville, with "Joyel Revolution Erica." The senior two-year-old earned the judges plaudits for her height, power and wide rear udder attachment.

Youth exhibitor Nathan Hostetter, Dover, took his second Brown Swiss title in as many days with a senior two-year-old, "Windmill Hammer Colleen." Judge Shaw praised her udder make-up and her strength, also noting that she had "a lot of breed character,"

Four-year-old "Joyel Craftsman Tink" was named reserve senior and grand champion in the Brown Swiss breed judging for Joyel Farms, Airville. Junior champion was "Muddy Run Aytola Sidney," exhibited by 4-H'er Kelly Jo Myers, Thomasville. Reserve junior champion also went to a youth exhibitor, Lisa Jones, Delta, with "Three Jetway Lily."

Supreme Dairy Champion at the York Fair was the aged cow winner exhibited by the Rodman Thompson family. With "Coredale Calypso Janis" are, from left, judge John Burket, Leo Rutter presenting the trophy, Roy Thompson, leadsman Brian Derr, judge Steve Shaw and Shirley Thompson Trimmer. The Supreme Champion plaque is awarded annually by Rutter's Dairy in memory of Ebert "Bud" Rutter's long association with the York Fair.

"Rutter Bros Pro Kings Lemay" was named Reserve Supreme Champion and received the annual plaque presented by the William Everhart family in loving memory of long-time family member fair exhibitors Beatrice May Ball and Catherine May Kurtz. On hand for the presentation were, from left, award presenter Dolores "Skip" Everhart, Leo Rutter, Cindy Rutter Johnson handling the Guernsey champion and York County Dairy Princess Tanya Thoman.

Angus Dominate York Fair Breeding Beef Show

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

YORK (York Co.) — A strong showing by Angus competitors in the York Fair's open class beef show finished with the breed snagging both Supreme Female and Bull banners.

"BV Elba 718," a late summer yearling heifer bred and exhibited by Doug and Kathy Shive Rohrbaugh, Seven Valleys, took the Supreme Female title after besting a strong lineup of contenders in the Angus classes. Elba is sired by Century Touchstone 131, out of the dam Rally Elba 330. She was also named best bred and owned honors for the Shive family's Buffalo Valley showstring.

The first of a newly-created, special Supreme Female Beef award was presented to the Shives from the Southcentral Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association. The award is in honor and memory of former Dallastown farmer and cattle breeder Jack Myers, whose family's Dunkard Valley Farms is a longtime York Fair exhibitor. After Myers' death earlier this year after a brief bout with cancer, a fund was created by the regional cattlemen's association to establish an annual award in his memory.

Claiming the Supreme Bull title was a stylish two-year-old, "South Branch Trams Am." He was bred by South Branch and exhibited by Sunset Hollow Farm, Hanover, and South Branch Farm, York. His exhibitors, the Grubb family, noted that Trans Am is better known around the farm as "Kooky" for his gentle and tame demeanor. He is sired by Transformer 100 EAR and out of the dam South Branch Barbara.

Several other breed contenders for the Supreme runoffs kept the competition lively for open class beef judge Keith Rooker, Uniontown, a beef breeder and international judge. Exhibitors participating in the Supreme Female finals included the Mosher family's Lenape Farms, Telford, with the Limousin, Tiffany Harward, Forest Hill, Maryland, with the Simmental, Morgan Firestine, Womelsdorf, exhibiting the Hereford, Dunkard Valley Farms, Dallastown, the Charolais contender, and Jen Flinchbaugh, York, with the Other Breeds female cham-

"South Branch Trans Am" was selected Supreme Bull over the York Fair's open class beef breeding competition. At the halter of the winning two-year-old is Tammi Grubb.

Delaware County 4-H Fair Huge Success

The success of the 4-H program in Delaware County, which enrolls more than 5,000 members annually, is dependent on the dedication and hard work of more than 400 adult volunteers and paid staff of five. Those volunteers who headed up activities at the fair included Alan Mc Clellan, Aston; Judi Bissinger, Broomall; Debbie Murphy, Collingdale; Theresa Muller, Drexel Hill; Cathy and Sarah Mae Phail, Judith Boody, Leslie Ruzowicz, Newtown Square; Sallie Anderson, Nether Providence; Jack Kahler, Havertown; Joanne and Jim Van Patton, Ridley Township; Bob and Debbie Davis, Marcy Henderson, Springfield; and Nancy Botella, Thornbury. All volunteers are under the direction of the paid 4-H staff Judy Mac Rone, Jim Short, Joyce Morrison, and Bud Bryan.

Champions and reserve champion honors in the vegetable judging went to Julie Mc Clellan, Colwyn; David and Aaron Murphy, Collingdale; Robert, Emilie, Debbie, and Bob Davis, Springfield; and Karen Boody, Newtown Square. Karen Boody also was champion in flowers. Michele Mc Clellan, Aston and Emilie Davis, Springfield took the pet care honors, with other animal science winner being Erin Yoder, Newtown Square; Michele and Renee Schuman, Upper Darby; Sasha Kinney, Drexel Hill; and Andrew Henderson, Springfield. Poultry champions were Emilie Davis, Springfield; Anne-Louise Ennis, Merion Ryan O'Keefe, Havertown; Michele Mc Clellan, Aston and Patrick Barrett, Upper Darby. Sheep championships went to: Ben and Meredith Ruzowicz, Newtown Square; Katlyn Novello, Sharon Hill; Joan Harris, Nether Providence; Alex Oleykowski and Claire Barrett, Upper Darby; and Jesse Familetti, Narbeth. Top honors with market hogs went to Anthony Vitale, Colwyn; Becky Barberich, Karen Boody, Ben and Meredith Ruzowicz, Newtown Square; Brian Albany, Springfield; and Jon Van Patton, Ridley Township. The horse halter showmanship champions were Tara Grey, Norwood; Mark Werzalis, Boothwyn; Beverly Menghetti and Julie Muettertus, Edgemont Township.

SPRINGFIELD (Delaware Co.) — Delaware County 4-H Clubs hold the only agriculture fair in the county in mid-August at the 4-H Farm and Educational Center, on the property of the Garrett-Williamson Foundation, Newtown Square. The two-day event featured 102 competitive entries according to Bud Bryan, county 4-H coordinator. Livestock, poultry, vegetables, animal science, pet care, and show-and-tell demonstrations were all judged. Hayrides, refreshments, and an auction rounded out the program.

Medford Meats in Chester bought the champion market hog and Tom Hibberd Insurance of Media purchased the champion market lamb. Both were owned by Meredith Ruzowicz of Newtown Square. Frank and Edna Videon of Newtown Square were also top buyers in the auction, with their purchases of two lambs, one hog, eggs, and vegetables. They donated both lambs and the hog back to Delaware County 4-H.

Ben Ruzowicz, left, Newtown Square, exhibited the reserve champion market lamb at the recent Delaware County 4-H Fair. Edna and Frank Videon of Newtown Square bought the lamb at auction and donated it back to 4-H.

Meredith Ruzowicz, left, of Newtown Square, exhibited the champion market hog at the Delaware County 4-H Fair. Karen Boody, also from Newtown Square, showed the reserve champion market hog. Keith Bryan, instructor of animal science at Penn State at University Park and formerly of Middletown Township, was the judge.

THINK CONCRETE WHEN PLANNING YOUR FEED STORAGE!!

"This is the kind of silo you need to protect your valuable feed."

"HOW WILL YOU BE STORING YOUR VALUABLE FORAGES AND GRAINS IN THE 21st CENTURY?"

It's not too early to begin planning your storage and feeding systems for the year 2000 and beyond.

As margins narrow, dairymen need to invest in efficiency; this can have as great an influence on PROFIT as milk price changes.

Protect your valuable feeds from the elements... increase the efficiency of your feeds, your animals, and your labor.

You Rise Up Early When You Live On A Farm.
The Chores are all waiting as you enter the barn.
Soon you will leave and go into the house, your breakfast is waiting, made by your spouse.
Now before you go out, I have something to say.
I was cleaning upstairs, the other day. Some won't go up, others just fall down, you can feel the cold air blowing all around. Look at these windows, how easy to clean, a house full of these would fulfill my dream. Why don't we call them, they look so nice there is no charge for giving a price.

Let EBY custom build one for you.

For greater payload capacity, Eby's aluminum design is equal in strength to steel and up to 40% lighter. Our corrosion-resistant components never need painting. That means minimum maintenance, improved appearance and higher resale value.

Eby products have superior standard features. And we offer customer options for virtually any application. Agriculture is your business - building bodies to haul it is ours.

EXCLUSIVE NORTHERN CHESTER COUNTY ESTATE OFFERED TO PUBLIC! CUSTOMER RESTORATION w/24 ACRES PUT UP FOR SALE

In a time and place uncommon for ornate and luxurious homes situated on large tracts of land to be found available, one of the Jewels in the heart of Chester County horse country makes its way to the marketplace. The 6000+ square foot county contemporary log, stone, and cedar home fully restored in 1989 and boasting such unique features practically unavailable in today's marketplace such as "cedar shake" shingles, copper rain spouts, and random width hardwood floors rests upon a property worthy of nobility. The estate holds a newly constructed bank barn with stables, electric, water and telephone lines setting upon a private retreat that nestles in front of over 50,000 acres of Federal and State protected lands. The landscape provides a pond, streams, a real spring certified by state labs as producing nearly 99% pure water lush green pastures, and woodlands filled with whitetail deer in Warwick Township. GOOD NEWS ABOUT FOOD SAFETY FROM PENNSYLVANIA'S EGG PRODUCERS

Paul H. Patterson
Assistant Professor
Department of Poultry Science

While considerable bad news has been reported about Salmonella, E. Coli, and microbial contamination of the U.S. food supply; there is good news about the food safety of eggs produced in Pennsylvania.

Egg producers, government agencies, and scientists have joined forces to provide the most elaborate shell egg food safety program in the country.

Back in the early 1990s, egg producers in Pennsylvania were concerned about Salmonella contamination of eggs and the safety of their customers. Foodborne outbreaks of Salmonella enteritidis (SE) in the northeast were on the rise and many were caused by eggs or egg dishes. In a cooperative effort, Pennsylvania egg producers opened the door of the hen house to the USDA, Pennsylvania Dept. of Ag., and scientists at Penn State and the University of Pennsylvania for their help with this problem. Their goal was to learn more about the epidemiology of SE and to reduce the SE threat to public health by reducing the number of SE contaminated eggs.

Research results from that early effort identified the main sources of SE contamination on egg farms; however, the reason for the increased incidence of SE remains a mystery. Salmonella are part of a family of bacteria known as Enterobacteriaceae. They are commonly found in nature in the intestinal tract of humans and other animals. More than 2,300 different types of Salmonella are known to exist. Salmonella enteritidis, or SE, is just one of these types, but one that is now frequently isolated from animal and poultry products.

Early efforts to control SE were largely reactive and did not succeed in preventing contamination of eggs. Unfortunately, egg farms cannot be made sterile, and only a small fraction of poultry houses, hens and eggs could actually be tested for SE organisms (there are approximately 236 million laying hens in the United States producing more than 60 billion eggs each year). For these reasons, it is virtually impossible to produce eggs with complete assurance they are free of SE bacteria. Therefore, efforts to control SE needed to be proactive, focusing on risk reduction and prevention.

Food safety experts from universities, government, and the food industry agree that the best system of food safety available for preventing foodborne illness is the Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Point system (HACCP). HACCP is a science-based system that identifies and monitors Critical Control Points throughout the food chain in order to minimize bacterial contamination.

In 1994, Pennsylvania egg producers formalized their research based efforts into a program utilizing the HACCP system e.g. the Pennsylvania Egg Quality Assurance Program, PEQAP for short. They identified critical control points in the production, processing and handling of eggs that were potential hazards for SE contamination, and established critical limits for each critical control point that could not be exceeded. Monitoring critical control points is an essential part of the program and corrective actions are taken when limits are exceeded. For example when microbial testing of eggs detects SE contamination, shell eggs are diverted from market channels to an egg breaker for pasteurization where bacteria are destroyed. Two hundred and sixty-six flocks in Pennsylvania are enrolled in the PEQAP, representing about 85 percent of the 22 million hens.

The HACCP system of identifying critical control points for because SE organisms grow very rapidly at warm temperatures. Single bacteria can divide and multiply to 64,000 in 8 hours time and more than 1 billion bacteria in a 15-hour period if conditions are right.

You can feel good about eating eggs and egg dishes knowing the Pennsylvania Egg Quality Assurance Program is the most elaborate food safety program in the nation. Only Pennsylvania egg producers are testing their birds, poultry houses, and eggs to ensure safety. The program even has third party government monitoring of the program for verification by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture (PDA). All this requires time and a monetary commitment to food safety. Pennsylvania Egg Quality Assurance Program producers are spending $1.0 million annually to reduce the risk of SE contamination. Costs incurred by the PDA are more than $400,000 for laboratory testing and third party monitoring.

Your grain doesn't have to take a beating anymore. With GLEANER's exclusive Natural Flow processing cylinder, your crop never changes direction. Giving you higher grain quality and better returns at the elevator. Our unique transverse mounting system moves your crop in a ribbon-like fashion from the concave through the cage. It's never forced to make hard turns. You also get the cleanest grain with our combine. We have the longest cleaning shoe in the industry, 64 inches to be exact. And we've added "cleaning shoe" enhancements, like a 4-degree sloped chaffer and sieve, for even finer cleaning and separation. To find out just how gentle we can be, contact your GLEANER dealer. You'll see that only GLEANER is engineered for better returns.

So when you buy eggs from Pennsylvania, look for the good news about food safety from Pennsylvania's egg producers and the new "Tested-Quality" seal that states that "the eggs you purchase have been produced, handled, and delivered to reduce the opportunity for foodborne illness — including Salmonella enteritidis. PEQAP-monitored by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture."

Envirothon Team Places High In Competition

ASHLAND, Neb. — The ninth annual National Envirothon competition was held during the week of July 28-Aug. 1 at Mahoney State Park and Platte River State Park.

The Envirothon tested high school students from 31 states and two provinces of Canada in five areas of discipline: aquatics, forestry, soils, wildlife, and an environmental issue, landuse/greenways. The students also had to develop and present a strategy for a greenway along the Missouri River near Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The team "Lorax," named after a Dr. Seuss character, representing Maryland and the Catoctin and Frederick Soil Conservation Districts are from Middletown High School, Middletown, Md. The "Lorax" placed second with a score of 522.80 points. They were just out of reach of the first place team from Connecticut who had a score of 527.35 points. The "Lorax" received the highest score in the soils category and the 1996 Envirothon Spirit Award from their student peers. The "Lorax" placed sixth at the 1995 National Envirothon competition in Rexburg, Idaho.

The "Lorax" team members were Erin Weber, Crissi Gamache, Jen Morat, Natalie Bucheimer, and Elaine Bucheimer, along with alternate Tara Harrell. The "Lorax" coaches were Middletown High School science teacher Ron Albaugh and Barry Burch, Frederick County Envirothon coordinator from the Catoctin and Frederick Soil Conservation districts.

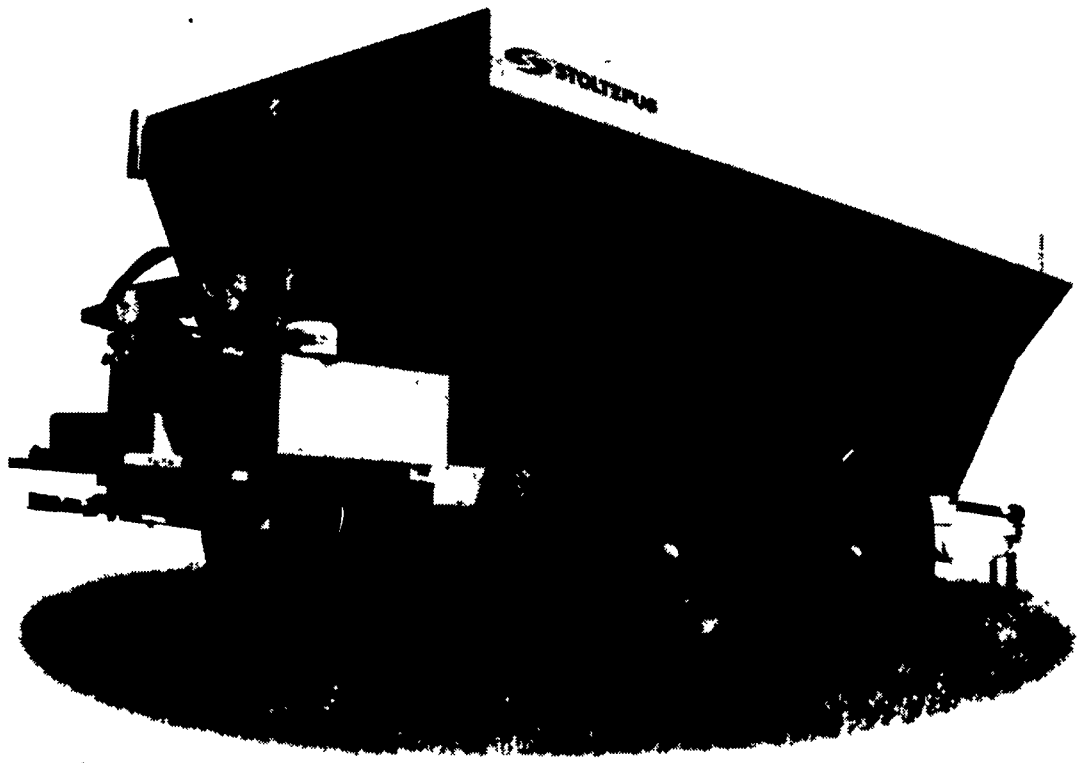
Sometimes You Need A Spreader Built Like A Tank.



When spreading stockpiled lime, for example. The Stoltzfus Wet Lime Spreader is likely the most powerful spreader of its kind on the market today. You see, we've been building them since 1945, and farmers are still using Stoltzfus Wet Lime Spreaders they've had for 20, even 30 years. Our special drag chain is 4 times stronger than stainless steel, and handles frozen and heavy stockpiled lime with ease. Plus, for spreading compost, composted sludge, poultry litter and certain fertilizers, the WLS is without equal for sheer volume spreading. We call that performance. You'll call it terrific.

We hope you compare a Stoltzfus WLS with other spreaders. It makes us look even better. Price? Sure we may be a little more. But when you end up replacing cheaper units in a few short years, what have you saved? Stoltzfus quality always pays foritself many times over.

Just how tough is a Stoltzfus WLS? Plenty tough. Call today. We'll tell you where to find the dealer nearest you, and send you free literature to inspect.

Pioneer To Sponsor Animal Nutrition Symposium

DES MOINES, Iowa — Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. is sponsoring an animal nutrition symposium Oct. 22 at the Marriott Thruway Hotel in Rochester, N.Y.

Entitled the "Seeds of Animal Nutrition," the symposium will be held prior to the Cornell Nutrition Conference for feed manufacturers, Oct. 23-24 at the same location.

Peter Van Soest, Ph.D., is the keynote speaker for the sumposium. In his presentation "Environment and Forage Quality," Van Soest will provide research showing the impact of weather and climate, and how each affect plant composition and nutritive feeding value.

Van Soest is universally recognized for his detergent system of fiber analysis. His use of chemistry to characterize and quantify fiber in feeds and foods has resulted in a comprehensive system of feed analysis which is accepted and used worldwide. This accomplishment and others have transformed the nutrition management of ruminants throughout the world, especially dairy cattle.

A professor at Cornell University, Van Soest has studied fiber digestion in almost 50 species of animals and is an author, researcher and sought-after speaker.

Four other speakers will be featured at the symposium. Don Sapienza, Ph.D., of Pioneer, will review a number of methods used by Pioneer and others in the industry to analyze forages and grains.

Jim Coors, Ph.D., of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will present the results of the four-year Wisconsin Corn Silage Consortium, a collaborative effort with the hybrid seed corn industry to study corn hybrids for silage productivity and nutritive value.

Joel Harrison, Ph.D., of Washington State University, will discuss several important factors in managing corn silage, such as plant population, stage of maturity at harvest, use of silage additives, ensiling management, and feed-out management.

The final speaker will be Kurt Ruppel, M.S., of Pioneer. He will present case studies demonstrating the management advice and service Pioneer dairy specialists can provide to producers. Bill Mahanna, Ph.D., of Pioneer will serve as emcee.

There is no charge to attend the "Seeds of Animal Nutrition" symposium, which begins at 1 p.m. and ends with a reception at 5:30 p.m. For more information, call John Muenzenberger at Pioneer at (800) 247-6803, ext. 6642.

The registration fee for the Cornell Nutrition Conference is $75 until Oct. 1, and $100 after that date. To register, call Dee Brothers at Cornell at (607) 255-4478.

Dekalb Granted Roundup Patent

DEKALB, Ill. — Dekalb Genetics Corporation said that it has been granted a patent (#5,554,798) from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office directed to fertile, transgenic corn that is resistant to the herbicide glyphosate.

Glyphosate is the active ingredient in Roundup®, the popular broad-spectrum herbicide marketed by Monsanto Company. This is the second product patent issued to Dekalb within the past two weeks directed to a herbicide-resistant corn product.

"This product patent is a major addition to our portfolio of intellectual property," said Bruce P. Bickner, Dekalb's chairman and chief executive officer. "We expect to introduce glyphosate-resistant corn hybrids in the spring of 1998, which would make Dekalb the first in the industry with this product. Farmers would then be able to use Roundup® herbicide on corn, which will dramatically improve their options for post-emergent weed control."

Since the beginning of 1996, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office has granted Dekalb nine patents, most of which relate to products with herbicide or insect resistance or to the transformation methods used to develop them.

"The first genetically engineered corn products to be commercialized incorporate either tolerance to the European corn borer or resistance to glyphosate or glufosinate herbicides," Bickner said. "We now have product patents directed to all of these major traits.

"Dekalb's patents related to transformation technology are equally important," he said. "Our patented bombardment process, which uses a 'gene gun' to insert genetic material, is the technology of choice for transforming corn to incorporate herbicide or insect resistance. Likewise, the bar or pat gene is commonly used in the industry as a selectable marker to identify cells that have been transformed. Our recent patent directed to transgenic corn plants containing the bar or pat gene is significant because many transgenic hybrids on the market or scheduled for commercial release contain this gene, including several Bt corn products."

Grower Wins Lease On Tractor

WATERLOO, N.Y. — Corn grower and dairy farmer John Hurst of Warsaw will be the envy of his neighbors this spring, driving around his farm in a newly leased tractor.

Hurst won the one-year lease on a Massey Ferguson® MF 6180 tractor in a promotion co-sponsored by American Cyanamid, makers of Prowl® herbicide, and Ag Radio Network.

Since he owns mostly Massey Ferguson equipment, the tractor will fit right in on his farm. "It's certainly something we can always use," said Hurst.

The second prize winner in the promotion, Kay Zeosky of Turin, won a RCA DSS® Satellite TV System complete with one year's free programming of more than 50 channels. Zeosky said this system will replace her broken TV and antenna, which lately has received only three channels for viewing.

York Farm Credit Board Reorganizes

YORK (York Co.) — York Farm Credit, ACA, announces the reorganization of its board of directors following stockholder elections in May.

Members re-elected Kenneth C. Ketterer of Cumberland County and Duane L. Hertzler of Perry County for three-year terms. Ketterer operates Bourbon Springs Farm, a 390-acre beef, hay, vegetable, and hog farm in Newville. In addition to his position on the York Farm Credit Board, he serves as ASCS vice chairman and is actively involved with various other agricultural groups. Hertzler, who began his second term on the Farm Credit Board, operates Moo-Echo Farms, an 815-acre Loysville dairy farm. He is a past local board member for Agway Cooperative.

Elected to the board for a first term was Lawrence E. Wilkinson of Adams County. He and his sons operate Getty Acres, a dairy, beef, and crop farm on 2,700 acres. Wilkinson is also a partner in Ocean Holiday Cruises.

At the new board's first meeting, Kenneth Ketterer was elected chairman and Paul W. McPherson of York County became vice chairman.

Pennfield Buys Martinsburg Milling

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Pennfield Corporation announced the purchase of Martinsburg Milling Company, Martinsburg.

Mike Horn, president and CEO, emphasized that Martinsburg Milling will be operated as a division of Pennfield Corporation, and that there will be no changes in services or operations of Martinsburg Milling.

This acquisition demonstrates Pennfield's commitment to meeting the needs of dairymen in the Mid-Atlantic region.

White Expands Planter Line

ATLANTA, Ga. — White has introduced the new 6346 horizontal fold planter designed to significantly reduce time between crops and improve productivity.

For planting both soybeans and corn, the White 6346 has a hydraulic folding frame designed to offer a 16-row 30 inch configuration and a 17-row 15 inch configuration. This patented two-fold design allows for quick changeover time and easy transport. When the operator is ready to work the next field, the 6346 quickly folds into a transport width of 22 feet 4 inches and a transport height of 10 feet 6 inches.

"The real beauty of the new 6346 planter is its diversity," said Randy Hoffman, general marketing manager, White planters. "No longer will your planter sit idle while you drill soybeans, because the 6346 can be used for both."

Like all White Planters, the 6346 provides superior depth control and seeding accuracy with its dual depth gauge wheels and "walking beam" system. To maintain accuracy on hilly ground, the frame of the 6346 flexes up or down a total of 20 degrees or 10 degrees per wing. Each row unit has an individual positive air metering system to guarantee precise, gentle seed placement. An electronic seed monitoring system warns the operator if seed flow is reduced or stopped. Durable seed hoppers have a two bushel capacity.

The swivel clevis hitch, the hinged frame, and the 7 inch x 7 inch frame tube provide the planter with the strength and flexibility to handle a range of field conditions.

Tractors Handle Big Jobs In Small Places

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — A low-clearance design and tight turning radius make the Belarus 8011L and 9011L utility tractors ideal for farms, poultry operations, orchards, vineyards, and lawn and landscape operations. These features mean a greater level of maneuverability for working in tight places.

While the low profile design and short turning radius of these tractors are ideal for doing big jobs in small places, the model 8011L and 9011L offer the same durability, value, and affordability common to the Belarus line of tractors.

The model 8011L boasts a four-cylinder, 81 hp, water-cooled engine for enhanced pulling ability. The turbocharged model 9011L features 98 hp. They also offer excellent lift capacity for front-end loader applications.

Standard equipment includes power-assisted steering; actuated double disc brakes; a fully adjustable operator seat; 9 forward and 2 reverse speeds; and full instrumentation.

1996 Keystone International Livestock Exposition Oct. 2 To 7

The Keystone International Livestock Exposition is in its 40th year at Harrisburg. The Exposition is recognized nationally as a showcase for the nation's top beef cattle, swine, sheep, and horses. It will be held at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg on October 2-7, 1996.

1996 has been disgnated as "Year of the Swine", so swine exhibitors will receive special attention as part of the effort to increase public awareness of the swine industry and the high caliber of shows held annually at KILE.

Increased interest and entries have led the show management to expand the horse program to six days, both the Appaloosa show and the Haflinger Show will be Wednesday and the Quarter Horse Show will be Sunday. Once again, part of the draft horse-hitch show is a qualifying event in the North American Six Horse Hitch Classic Series, and many of the country's top rated hitches will work to earn points for the national event in Ocala, Florida.

Other livestock will also garner international attention. The Limousin Show has been designated as a Limousin Medal of Excellence Show, Level II. One of eight approved regional competitions that qualify exhibitors for the nation show.

Sheep competition at KILE features the National Tunis Youth Show and Eastern Regional Junior Dorset Show.

Hundreds of collegiate, FFA and 4-H students from several states always enter the junior livestock judging and stockman contests at KILE. These keen educational competitions are excellent tests of knowledge and skill, providing students with valuable experience for their futures in agriculture.

With the newly-expanded Pennsylvania Farm Show Complex, KILE has been able to spread out through two additional acres of indoor exhibit space. Over 4,400 entries are expected for the 1996 show, which offers a record $200,000 in premiums.

Along with a huge array of livestock, the Exposition will include commercial and educational exhibits, top quality entertainment, and a tantalizing assort-

James P. Gallagher Honored

James P. Gallagher will be honored posthumously on Thursday, October 3rd as the 1996 Hall of Fame Winner for the Pennsylvania Livestock Association. He will be honored at a ceremony at 4:00 in the Small Arena of the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg on Thursday, October 3, 1996. His picture will be hung on the Small Arena wall with the twenty-six previous winners of this prestigious award. This award is given by the Pennsylvania Livestock Association and is chosen on the following three criteria: contribution to the livestock industry, involvement with the Pennsylvania Livestock Association and contribution to the community.

Jim Gallagher inspired, encouraged, motivated, supported and commanded the fight to save animal agriculture. He believed strongly that the youth are the future of this country and that we were responsible for educating those youth.

Mr. Gallagher had served with Penn State Cooperative Extension since 1959. He was an assistant county agent in Clearfield county from 1959 until 1963 when he transferred to Cumberland County. As extension agent, he developed educational programs for 4-H youth and livestock producers. He was recognized for the strength of his training program for volunteer lay leaders iin 4-H.

In 1965, he transferred to University Park as an equine specialist for the College of Agriculture. There, he was noted for in service training for county-based extension staff.

He conducted the first interstate 4-H horse judging contest in the United States, which became the National 4-H Horse Judging Contest. Working with the Easter Seal Society, he organized handicapped riding programs in Pennsylvania. He organized and supervised the State 4-H Horse Show held annually at Harrisburg. In 1980, the Pennsylvania Association of 4-H and Youth Agents recognized him with their first Clover Award for his contributions to youth programs in Pennsylvania.

James P. Gallagher

In 1968, he was instrumental in getting the various horse organizations of the state to form the Pennsylvania Equine Council. In 1976, he played a key role, working with Pennsylvania's Lt. Governor Ernest Kline, in directing the Bicentennial Wagon Train Pilgrimage to Pennsylvania with six different routes across the nation, involving hundreds of wagons and thousands of riders, converging at Valley Forge on July 3.

He served as educational coordinator of the International Farm Youth Exchange Ambassador delegation to the United Kingdom in 1984. He organized and served as host for two People-to-People agricultural tours - one to Ireland, Poland and the Soviet Union and a second to the People's Republic of China.

In recent years he coordinated the animal science extension program in the College of Agriculture. In 1987, the honor society of agriculture, Gamma Sigma Delta, recognized him with their Extension Award.

At the time of his death, he was involved in planning for the founding of the Pennsylvania Center for Integrated Therapy and in the economic impact study of the equine industry in Pennsylvania.

As a long-time PLA member and co-chairman of KILE for two years, he was responsible for modernizing show procedures and for the introduction of draft horses into the KILE show.

Challenge Of The Breeds

The Friday, October 4th evening arena program at the 1996 Keystone International Livestock Exposition, October 2-7, will be the "Challenge of the Breeds". This show pits nine internationally recognized horse breeds, the Appaloosa, Arabian, the Paint, Half-Arabian, Morgan, Palomino, Pinto, Quarter Horse, Percheron, and Saddlebred, against each other in an evening of fun and mastery. These animals have been chosen by their respective breed associations. In order to compete, the horse must be owned by a Pennsylvania resident. The event is sponsored in part by the Fieldstone Meadows Horse Farm, Dallastown, PA.

The six events in which each horse can be entered include:

A. Pleasure Driving - Horses are asked to perform both ways at a walk and trot.

B. English Pleasure - In English tack, horses will perform both directions at a walk, trot and a canter.

C. Hunter Hack - In addition to performing on the rail, the horse will be asked to take two jumps.

D. Western Pleasure - In western gear, the horse will walk, job, and lope in both directions.

E. Western Riding - The horse performs a prescribed course which demonstrates the performance of a well-mannered ranch horse.

F. Barrel Racing - A timed event in the clover-leaf pattern is performed by the horse.

The horses will be judged at each of these events on a point system by a qualified judge. The winning horse will receive the distinction of being the Keystone Sovereign Champion and will receive an award of $1,000. The Reserve Champion will be awarded $500. Placings will be paid through eighth place.

This marks the seventh time that a "Challenge of the Breeds" event has been held in Pennsylvania. The Draft Horse teams will also perform in competitive classes during the evening. Over twenty different teams are expected to be in competition.

The show will begin at 7:00 p.m. on Friday evening, October 4, at the PA Farm Show Arena, Harrisburg, PA and the admission fee for the show is $5.00.

Why not plan to come and enjoy the 1996 Keystone International Livestock Exposition?

Saturday Is Kid's Day

The Keystone International Livestock Exposition has chosen Saturday, October 5, 1996 as a special day for children. Daily attractions continue throughout Kid's Day including a special performance by "Mo Vint, The Harmonica Player".

Kessler's "Barnyard" is open alld ay long providing a unique experience for the children to actually touch and hold farm animals such as chicks, ducks, and baby pigs. A farmer will be there to answer any questions youngsters may have.

Three shows will be presented throughout the day featuring the Animals of Distinction. Youngsters will especially enjoy the performances of these special animals.

Lebanon Valley National Bank is sponsoring the "Agri-Kid Olympics" at 12:00 noon. The olympics is a fun time for kids as they compete in such farm-related events as Sack Races, Wheel Barrow Races, Laughing Contest, Horse Shoe Pitch and Hog- Calling Contest.

The Kiddie Pedal-Power Tractor Pull, sponsored by Evergreen Tractor Sales at Myerstown, is a special event very similar to the big tractor pulls seen at many county fairs. Children must preregister at 1:30 for the event which will be held at 3:00 p.m. The event is limited to 80 participants. So be sure to sign up early.

So, why not plan to bring your children to the 1996 Keystone International Livestock Exposition at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg, PA.

K.I.L.E. Shepherd's Lead Line

Who looks better, the Sheep or the Shepherd? Judges will tell at the Keystone International Livestock Exposition Shepherd's Lead Line Competition to be held on Saturday, October 6, 1996 precisely at NOON at the Farm Show Complex.

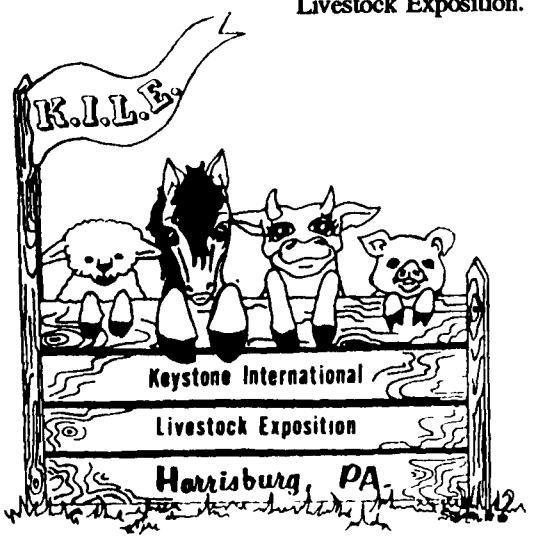
The objectives of this class are to present a class of yearling ewes in a most attractive manner and give spectators an opportunity to see the best of the sheep industry.

The normal procedure at a Livestock Show is for the animal to be all primped and lovely, but in our Lead Line Compeition the Leadsman is also in the limelight. Both are to be dressed fashionably in their best wool outfit. (At least 80% wool).

Not just another pretty face can steal our show. Our herdsperson must not only look terrific, but our sheep must also show their modeling talents. The contestants and the sheep must be able to work together in the ring.

The Lead Line Competition has been around K.I.L.E. for years and each year it gets easier for our contestants to find their Wool Garments.

We help point out the virtues of wool. It is a product that has been around forever and in recent years is making a well deserved comeback.



The Keystone International Livestock Exposition is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Livestock Association in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and the Pennsylvania Farm Products Show Commission.

Why not plan to enjoy yourself at the 1996 Keystone International Livestock Exposition.

Sponsors Assist in Production of KILE

The Keystone International Livestock Exposition is in its 40th year at Harrisburg. The Exposition is recognized nationally as a showcase for the nation's top beef cattle, swine, sheep, and horses. It will be held at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg on October 2-7.

To date, eighty-eight major sponsors have committed funds to support the Keystone International Livestock Exposition. A sponorship program was put together a few years ago to assist in funding the show as well as to promote the show. With the revamped KILE program, many opportunities exist for agricultural companies and individuals to get involved.

Fieldstone Meadows Horse Farm, York, PA is sponsoring the "Challenge of the Breeds" show on Friday evening in the large arena. This event will pit nine internationally recognized horse breeds: Appaloosa, Arabian, Half-Arabian, Percheron, Paint, Quarter Horse, Morgan, Palomino and Pinto against each other in an evening of fun and mastery. A total of twelve horses chosen by their respective breed associations will be entered in the competition. The "Keystone Sovereign Champion" will then receive $1,000.

Sponsoring the Kiddie Pedal Pull is Evergreen Tractor Sales at Myerstown, PA. Dennis Grumbine, owner, reports that he chose the Kiddie's Pedal Pull to sponsor because of the close tie-in with the equipment business. The Pedal Pull will be held on Saturday, Octobelr 5, at 3:00 PM. The event is open to children between the ages of 3 and 8.

Kessler Meats has chosen to sponsor our daily "Kessler's Barnyard", as it is called, where kids of all ages can touch an pet barnyard animals. Kessler's Meats is located in Lemoyne, Pa.

Lebanon Valley National Bank is sponsoring the Agri-Kid Olmypics. Farm-related competitive events will be held for children including wheelbarrow races, hay toss, sack races, hog-calling, and laughing contests. Kids will even learn how to auctioneer.

Pennsylvania Livestock Association is sponsoring the Keystone Stockman's Contest, it will be held on Monday, October 7th and is open to any 4-H or FFA member in the United States and Canada. Last year, 452 youth participated in this contest.

Sponsorships at KILE are available in six monetary denominations from $50.00 to $1,000.00 +. Sponsors receive show pins, ring announcements, plaques, display ads, pictures and banners depending on the level of participation.

Heavy Hitch Classic Set for Kile

On Saturday, October 5th, the Farm Show Arena will come alive with the sound of thundering hoovers. The Heavy Hitch Classic will begin at 7:00 p.m. in the Large Arena of the Farm Show Complex. An admission fee of $5.00 per person will be charged at the gate.

At the 1995 Show, the 8-Horse hitch classes were added and we are pleased to again present them this year. They come from five states and represent four major draft horse breeds. Entrants include Rocking Horse Ranch Resort, Highland, NY; Sunny Hill Farm, Myerstown, PA; Pennwoods Percherons, Centre Hall, PA; Knapp Tyme Percherons, Finlay, OH; Grandview Clydesdales, Huntingdon, IN; Bartlett Family Clydesdales, Manlius, NY.

In 1996, over 200 six-horse hitchers were entered in the 45 qualifying shows across the United States and Canada. The Keystone International Livestock Exhibition is again a quailfying show for the 1996 year. Prize money will be awarded at the KILE Show.

The North American Six-Horse Hitch Classic Series is the ultimate driving event in the heavy horse world. The Keystone International Livestock Exposition has been chosen as one of 45 recognized Qualifying Shows on the Classic Series Show circuit. Each year all across America, six-horse hitches perform at state fairs and agricultural exhibitions to accumulate points for their region and beyond competing at Qualifying Shows spread across Canada and the United States. The compeition builds to a climax at the end of the year when the high-point hitches are invited to compete in the final competition, the Classic Series. The winner of the Classic Series All Breed Trophy is considered by many to be the best six-horse hitch in the world.

An eight horse hitch in action at the 1995 KILE.

The stated goals for the Classic Series are "to increase the number of draft hitches on the show circuit" and to "increase public awareness of the sport of driving heavies, thereby expanding expanding development of the draft breed industry."

The four major draft horse breeds that compete in the Classic Series are Belgians, Percherons, Clydesdales, and Shires. Hitches are judged on conformation, manners, the proper fit and cleanliness of the harness, the appropriateness of the waton, and the hitch's way of going. The stride of a draft horse at the walk should be long, one that covers ground, with plenty of snap. The trot should be stylish, giving the distinct impression of power and energy.

The sport of driving draft horses is continuing to grow and find favor with audiences across the continent. The Classic Series competition offers incentives for exhibitors and encourage breeders of quality hitch horses.

The stylist driving horses seen in the ring today are the result of countless hours of preparation and care that culminate in the brilliant performances you will witness during the Classic Series Qualifying Show Competition.

The real winner of the Classic Six-Horse Hitch Series is the spectator. Over 400 draft horses will be on display and it is expected that over fifteen six-horse hitches will be in competition for the Classic.

The Keystone International Livestock Exposition will be held October 2-7, at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg, PA. Why not plan to spend some time in the country at the Keystone Show.

Youth Contest Featured At KILE

The 19th Annual Keystone Stockmen's Contest, a youth activitiy in the program of the KILE Show, is scheduled for Monday, October 7, 1996. The contest is open to all 4-H and FFA members. Each county or chapter is invited to enter one or more teams of three or four members. These members will also compete as individuals.

Registration begins at 8:00 a.m. and the contest concludes at 4:30 p.m. This allows a group to participate in the contest, view the livestock and horse shows in progress and return home the same day.

Prizes are awarded for the winners. The high scoring team wins $100.00 as well as ribbons. The individual high score wins $75.00, with prizes going to the top 30 participants. All others will receive participation ribbons. The five highest placing contestants in the over-all individual scores are interviewed by a committee of three officials. The interview consists of questions on management, health, showing and current events concerning the livestock industry. The winner of this award will receive $250.00 and a permanent trophy. For more information on the contest, contact Charles Itle, manager of the KILE Show. He can be reached at 717-787-2905.

The Fourth Annual Keystone Arabian Horse Judging Contest will also be held. Prizes for this show are provided by the International Arabian Horse Association. The contest will be held on Monday, October 7th beginning at 8:00 a.m. For more information on this contest, contact Fred Metcalf, 717-888-7766, ext. 224.

PLA Youth Awards

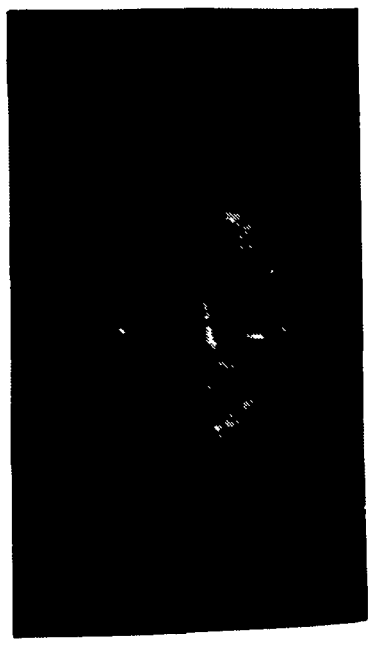
The Pennsylvania Livestock Association (PLA) has recognized outstanding 4-H and FFA Youth for the past 20 years.

The male FFA Youth Award recipient is Mr. Luke Zerby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Zerby of Beavertown, PA. Luke is 16 years old and is a member since 1994 of the West Snyder FFA Chapter. Luke's FFA projects have included beef, sheep and swine production. He has held the office of vice-president of membership this year and has participated in the state winning Parliamentary Procedure Team as well as the livestock judging team. Extra curricular activities he participates in include marching band, stage band, chorus, honor society and varsity soccer. He is a 4-H member and his future goals include college with a major in agriculture.

Luke Zerby

Michelle Cornman

Michael Fedor



Michelle Corman is the female recipient of the FFA Award. Michelle is 18 years old and is the daughter of Melvin & Betty Corman of Carlisle, PA. She has been an FFA member since 1994 at the Big Spring High School. She has served as president, vice-president and secretary of her chapter. Her projects have mainly been in the sheep, goats, beef and hog area. Michelle will graduate from high school in the spring and plans to pursue a career in large Animal Science with a minor in Agriculture Extension. Other activities which Michelle has been active include 4-H, where she served as president during the 1994-95 year. She is an honor student and is listed in the Who's Who among American high school students.

The male 4-H winner is Michael Fedor, son of Richard & Lola Fedor of Palmerton, PA. Michael is 16 years old and a 4-H member for nine years. His projects included swine and a new project this year dairy beef. He is presently serving as President of the Carbon County 4-H Livestock Club and treasurer of the Carbon County 4-H Exchange Club. This past summer, Michael attended the Pennsylvania Governor's School in Ag at Penn State University. His school activities include marching band, concert band, track, FBLA, drama club and National Honor Society. His future plans include attending Penn State next fall and hopefully becoming a large animal veterinarian.

Jessica Abel is the female 4-H Winner. She is the daughter of Mrs. Joyce Able of Creekside, PA. Jessica is 16 years old and has been a 4-H member for the past five years. A junior at Marion Center High School, Jessica plans to attend college after graduation and major in agriculture. Her goal is to be an animal research geneticist. Her 4-H projects have included beef, sheep and swine. She has been involved in livestock judging as well as lead line competition. As an FFA member, she attended the National Convention in Kansas City last year. Jessica serves as secretary of her 4-H Club as well as a very active teen leader.

These very deserving young people will be recognized at the Keystone International Livestock Expo Opening Ceremony at the Small Arena of the Farm Show Complex on Thursday, October 3, 1996 at 4:00 p.m. They will receive a plaque and a monetary award.

Entertainment Scheduled

1996 has been designated as "Year of the Swine", so swine exhibitors will receive special attention as part of the effort to increase public awareness of the hog industry and the high caliber of swine shows held annually at KILE.

The Keystone International Livestock Exposition is in its 40th year at Harrisburg. The Exposition is recognized nationally as a showcase for the nation's top beef cattle, swine, sheep, and horses. It will be held at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisuburg on October 2-7.

At the 1996 Show, we are attempting to give people a reason to stay. One of America's top performing acts, "Animals of Distinction," will be performing 3 shows daily. These world famous animal performers are drawing record crows from coast to coast. They not only entertain but also educate against animal abuse and neglect.

The strolling act, booked primarily for Thursday evening, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, is Mo Vint and he will amble around the Farm Show Complex putting on his show. For too many years, the only reason people had to attend the KILE Show was to look at the animals and one quick trip through the barns and they went home. Mo Vint, attired in some interesting costumes, will perform harmonica demonstrations and vocals, for young and old, from Peg 'O My Heart to Rubber Duckey and Orange Blossom Special.

Why not plan to come and enjoy yourself at the 1996 Keystone International Livestock Exposition.

'Fran' Doesn't Affect Spirits Of Cambria Winners

LORETTA GOLDEN
Cambria Co. Correspondent

EBENSBURG (Cambria Co.) — The 105th edition of the Cambria County Fair drew to a close Sept. 7.

What started out as a beautiful week deteriorated during the last two days because of the effects of Hurricane Fran. While the area didn't receive the amounts of rain initially predicted, people heeded the weather warnings and fair officials estimate that total attendance was down by approximately 20,000 people.

Patty Feather, Cambria County extension agent, pointed out that the wrath of "Fran" was not felt until most of the 4-H activities, including the livestock sale, had been completed. While Feather explained that there were not as many animals in this year's competition, the sale was very successful.

One of the big surprises was a high bid of $42.50 a pound for a capon raised by Andy Myers of Rager's Corner. This capon was purchased by Brian Long of the Long Barn and proceeds were donated by the 4-H Capon Club to benefit the Livestock Judging Team.

4-H Dairy Club Overall showmen were, second place, Ben Sherry and first, Marty Lieb.

The grand champion hog was raised by 4-H'er Joe Strittmatter of Ebensburg and purchased by Dan Biter Construction for $5 a pound. Reserve grand champion hog was purchased by Delvin Lockard of JD Lockard Construction Co. This hog was raised by Janel Strittmatter.

Montgomery Champion's Antique Gallon Milk Container Brings $610

COLLEGEVILLE (Montgomery Co.) — 4-H'ers exhibited 44 animals with seven dairy breeds represented at the Montgomery County 4-H Fair in Creamery.

Don Harwood of Susquehanna judged the cattle for type (body structure) and fitting (how well the animal is groomed). In addition, each 4-H'er was judged on their ability to show their bovine during the contest.

This year's supreme champion of the show was a junior 2-year-old Jersey, Neshaminy Imperial Prestige, exhibited by Amy Plummer of Chalfont. An antique gallon milk container representing milk from the supreme champion was later auctioned off to the top bidder, Freddy Hill Farms of Lansdale, for $610 as part of Montgomery County's Market Animal Sale. Proceeds from the milk container are split between Amy and the Montgomery County 4-H Dairy Club. The junior supreme champion was a spring calf, Moser-Hill Jurist Janie, exhibited by Amber Hallowell of Bechtelsville. Best owned and bred also went to Amy Plummer's Prestige.

Holsteins exhibited by Karen Wolfgang and Amber Hallowell, both of Bechtelsville, were the Holstein grand champion and reserve grand champion, respectively. Junior and reserve junior champion Holsteins were exhibited by Amber Hallowell and Alan Seipt of Lansdale.

Grand champion and reserve grand champion for the five colored breeds are as follows: Ayrshire, Seth Wolfgang of Bechtelsville; Brown Swiss, Jonathan Sterner of Bechtelsville; Guernsey, Karen Wolfgang; Jersey, Amy Plummer; and Milking Shorthorn, Lizzie Moser of Gilbertsville. This year a lineback was also exhibited by Seth Wolfgang, which received a grand champion rosette.

pions of the colored breeds were as follows: Ayrshsire, Seth Wolfgang; Brown Swiss, Jonathan Sterner; Guernsey, Karen Wolfgang; Jersey, Amy Plummer; and Milking Shorthorn, Lizzie.

The fitting and showing portion of the dairy show was divided into three classes: Juniors, ages of 8 to 10, Intermediates, ages 11 to 14, and Seniors, ages 15 to 18. In the junior fitting, Amber Hallowell received junior fitting honors and Laura Seipt of Lansdale received reserve junior fitting honors. Junior showman awards were won by Amber Hallowell and Kevin McGinnis of Souderton. For the intermediate, 4-H'ers Sean Hallowell of Bechtelsville and Chris McGinnis of Souderton received fitting and reserve fitting awards. Showmanship champion and reserve champions went to Sean Hallowell and Alan Seipt of Lansdale. In the senior 4-H class, Amy Plummer and Karen Wolfgang won 1st and 2nd place in the fitting contest, and Amy Plummer and Seth Wolfgang won 1st and 2nd place in the showman contest, respectively.

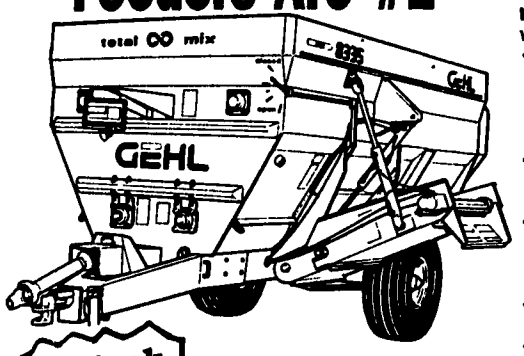
Binkley & Hurst Bros. Inc. has this Quality Gehl Mixer Feeder On Our Lot Ready For Delivery!

Gehl TMR Mixer Feeders Are #1



Nothing can maximize the return on investment in your dairy or beef feeding operation like a Total Mixed Ration (TMR) feeding system. And nothing makes TMR work better than a Gehl mixer feeder. Here's why:

- Better Mixing Action — Unique four-auger design creates a double figure-8 mixing pattern for fast and complete mixing of all feed ingredients.
- Energy Efficient — Planetary drive system requires less horsepower.
- Built To Last — Patented star couplers absorb shock loads by allowing the bottom augers to flex, providing long service life.
- Six Sizes — From 150 to 500 cubic feet mixing capacities
- Three Styles — Trailer type, stationary and truck-mounted units to fit your operation.

Most Mix-All owners will never buy another.

In fact, you'd probably have a hard time convincing Gehl Mix-All® owners to even look at anything else. And why should they?

The Mix-All's big 21-inch wide hammermill features 66 reversible thin hammers that cut, rather than pound the feed to deliver a more consistent grind and ensure uniform mixing for a better feed conversion rate.

Gehl's self-contained hydraulic system is designed-in, not added on. It provides the precision of infinitely variable in-feed attachment control to match tractor power for greater grinding capacity. Plus you get fast, smooth, trouble-free unloading with greater reliability.

And a wide variety of options and attachments lets you customize your Mix-All to fit any operation.

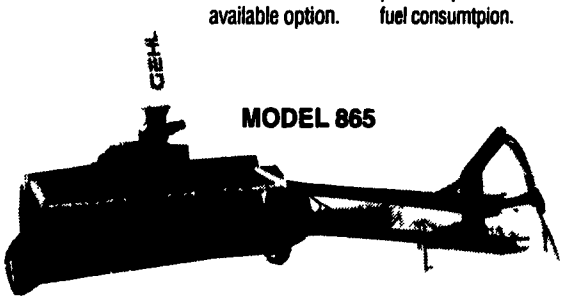
Buy This Almost New Preowned Gehl Model 865 Corn Harvester with 2 Row Corn Head, Hyd. Swing Draw Bar, Metal Stop Protection, Tandem Axle, Electric Controls, Used for only 2 Silos

Model 865 delivers high-capacity at an economy price for extra value. The 865 is designed for use with tractors from 60 to 150 horsepower (1,000 rpm) or up to 120 horsepower with 540 rpm.

Standard equipment includes an in-head hydraulic knife and cutterbar sharpening system, electric controls, one-way shear-bolt protection system, single station cutterbar adjustment and an overrunning clutch. Gehl's Metal Shop™ metal detector is an available option.

The eight-knife cutterhead is close coupled to the blower for continuous inline crop flow from the cutterhead to the blower to the spout. The cylinder is actually set into the blower compartment, speeding material flow from the cutterhead into the blower. Cylinder momentum and blower suction keep material moving, reducing horsepower requirements and fuel consumtpion.



High Capacity with Unmatched Economy

Two-row (shown) and three-row corn attachments are available in narrow or wide row models. The two-row unit fits all three harvesters while the three-row unit fits both the Model 1065 and 1265

Both corn attachments feature a patented rotor cutting system to feed stalks to the stationary cutting knife. Stalks are grabbed individually for minimal loss. With 3-inch wide crested gathering belts, the whole stalk and ears are delivered to the cylinder. The same sprocket powers both the gathering belts and the rotary knives. This simple system means less weight, less vibration and less maintenance.

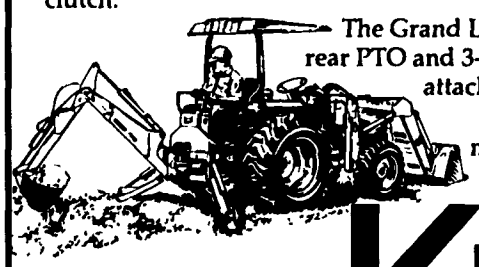
Kubota Parts In Stock
UPS We Ship Daily

Introducing Kubota's new Grand L-Series diesel tractors. Four compact models with 25 to 37 PTO HP. Designed to take on any job that demands power and mobility.

Available in 2WD and 4WD, the Grand L-Series features Kubota's new ETVCS diesel engines that run quiet with cleaner emissions. Operator friendly with power steering, tilt wheel and enclosed muffler for greater visibility. The roomy flat operator's deck is ISO mounted to greatly reduce vibration.

The Grand L-Series has a choice of transmissions, the new fully synchronized main transmission with Synchro-Shuttle allowing shifting-on-the-go through the 4 main gears or the new GST (Glide Shift Transmission) which allows shifting-on-the-go through all 8 speeds, both run smoothly and efficiently with the new larger diameter, larger capacity clutch.



The Grand L-Series powerful hydraulic system, independent rear PTO and 3-point hitch hook up to a wide range of quick-attach implements to handle any job.

EARTH METAL®– A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE

Case International Earth Metal disk blades do make a world of difference on a tandem disk harrow

An innovative patented process reduces the sulfides in steel that create fracture points in conventional blades Remaining sulfides are left in random non-directional globules You don t have to be a chemist to understand what this means Longer wear – up to 20% longer And 60% greater shock resistance

And our unique shallow concavity crimped-center blades cut drawbar pull by 33% (compared to conical blades) and by more than 50% compared to spherical blades That s fuel savings on top of longer wear and greater shock resistance

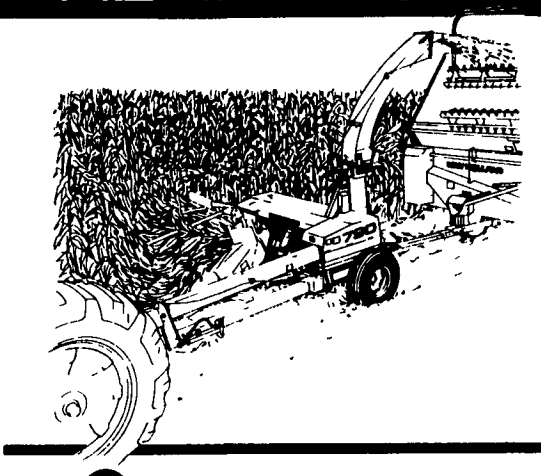
HEAVY-DUTY



OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE IN THE FIELD

You get a fine, uniform chop with the Model 790 forage harvester from New Holland. The 12-knife cutterhead features hardened alloy knives with tungsten edges to keep you chopping at peak productivity, season after season. And routine maintenance is hasslefree!

Nobody builds forage harvesters better than New Holland. Stop in and see why they're outstanding in the field.

NEW HOLLAND

SAVE TIME

WHIRL-A-FEED® SPINNING ACTION

The New Holland Model 40 forage blower saves you time at the silo. This 1000-rpm blower features a 48-inch diameter hopper that center-fills silos 80 feet and higher. The Whirl-a-Feed® rotary table spins crops into the blower housing, and material gets off to a fast start up the blower pipe. Spinning action breaks up heavy clumps, and virtually eliminates plugging. There's less drag on the fan, and more efficient use of the tractor's horsepower.

Find out how to save time with the Model 40 from New Holland.

Every grain opened up

The high quality of corn forage produced by the JAGUAR is derived form the CLAAS corn cracker. Two saw toothed rollers run at different speeds with 20% difference open up virtually every kernel and this means good quality silage which is easily digested. This makes for highest energy transfer for r higher milk and meat yields.

The rollers are subject to wear and tear, so the CLAAS corn cracker features removable outer sleeves. The shafts, drive pulley and bearing are all reused, thus reducing maintenance costs. Foreign bodies pass through thanks to a spring loaded mechanism.

The 7.7" diameter of the corn cracker rollers is exceptionally large. The speed differential intensifies the grinding effect for effective opening of the kernels.

The degree of corn cracker intensity is adjustable to take account of differing dry matter content. This is done mechanically. An optional electrical adjustment is available.

Since the corn cracker stays on the machine, the changeover from corn to grass can always with a minimum of preparation. This is a help when grass and corn are being harvested at the same time. The area around the corn cracker ahead of the cooling system is very large, enabling ease of access to parts you wouldn't otherwise be able to reach.

Looking for a better combine?

Look to Massey Ferguson first.

Ever since Massey Ferguson introduced the very first self-propelled combine, they've been the preferred choice of some of the world's most demanding customers

It's a legacy of which we're extremely proud And it's an obligation we take very seriously The new MF 8450 and 8460 combines are a proud addition to this Massey Ferguson tradition for quality, performance and reliability

Plus they offer exciting new features that demonstrate the continuing Massey Ferguson commitment to providing you with the best value in combines

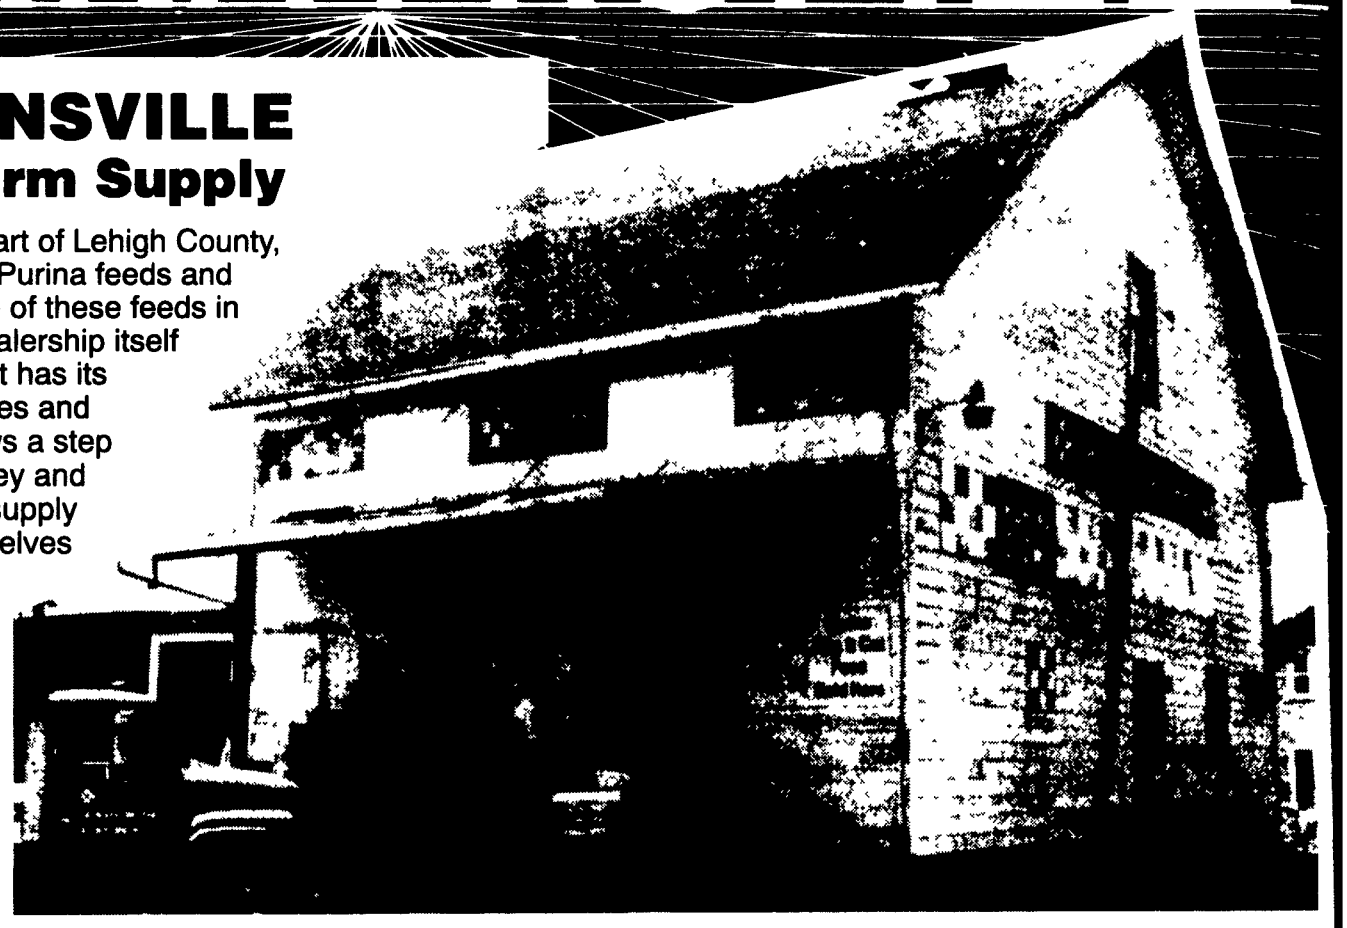
PURINA PROFILE

GERMANSVILLE
Feed and Farm Supply



Located in the little hamlet in the heart of Lehigh County, supplies to their customers modern Purina feeds and technical assistance to back the use of these feeds in today's flocks and herds. But the dealership itself is housed in an updated gristmill that has its origins in pre-Revolutionary War times and retains a certain character that allows a step back into more relaxed times. Rodney and Diane Schlauch own the farm feed supply business and have dedicated themselves to carrying on the traditions of good service with excellent products that have been established over the 60 years this has been a Purina dealership. Their son Fred Schlauch manages the retail pet food and supplies business. Several of the present employees have 35 years or more experience at the dealership.

While they supply no major dairy farms in their area, they serve horse, hog, steer, and chicken farmers in Lehigh, Northampton, lower Schuylkill, Carbon, and lower Monroe Counties "with everything Purina puts in bags, including all the health product lines." Of course, pet foods and exotic animal feeds are a large part of their business too. In addition to the bagged feeds they also supply bulk feeds to their customers.

The Germansville Feed and Farm Supply Purina dealership is housed in an old grist mill that dates back to pre-Revolutionary War times. Bobby Kressley, Jamie Rex, and Rodney Schlauch are standing on the platform with some of Purina's most popular horse feeds.

"For us, Purina is the most highly researched, and one of the oldest feed companies in the nation," Rodney said. "Purina has a complete line of feeds that are well-accepted both on the farm and with our other rural and urban customers. We don't have the quality and distribution problems of some other companies, and Purina gives us the technical backup if we or one of our customers has a problem or question about his livestock or pets.

"Customer service is the key. I'm not worried about the giant retail stores as long as we treat our customers right and have employees who know the products and also accommodate our customers. Our customers often come in to talk to us about their pets or livestock, and we take the time to answer their questions. We also try to keep everything in stock so our customers don't need to come back again because we didn't have it."

The Schlauchs thank their customers for their business and believe they have the Purina products that their customers are comfortable using.
